Hurricane Claims Two Lives

Big Blow Strikes Coast Of Virginia, Moves Northeast

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—The first East Coast hurricane of the season careened northeastward from Cape Hatteras today, leaving two persons dead and more than one million dollars damage in its wake.

It scraped over North Carolina and Virginia coastal areas, then stood offshore as it headed by New Jersey and New York on a line pointing east of Nantucket.

Southern New England and Long Island, hit by a devastating hurricane in 1938, were expected to get gale force winds and heavy rain from the fringe of the new storm, along with high tides.

A rainfall of 5.53 inches was recorded in 24 hours in Norfolk, Va.

North Carolina farm officials surveyed flattened fields after the hurricane crossed that area and estimated damage to corn, bean, cotton and tobacco crops at more than tne million dollars there alone.

80 Mile An Hour Punch

The big blow packed a punch of 80 miles an hour at its core—less than in some hurricanes of other years but sufficient to knock down trees and wires and to smash windows.

A man was blown from a pier near Wilmington, N. C., and swept out to sea, presumably drowned. A policeman in Norfolk County, Va., was killed when he touched a fallen live wire.

Reports of injuries and narrow escapes abounded.

The Norwegian tanker Marna, trapped for a time near the center of the storm southeast of Cape Lookout, N. C., was reported to have weathered the blow.

The SS Laura Keen broke her moorings at a Norfolk coal pier. A Coast Guard vessel went to her assistance.

Ocean City, Md., Lashed

Heavy seas and high winds rocked the Wolftrap Light Station in Chesapeake Bay and swept away her boat.

A 55-foot yacht, the Marwig, with four Lancaster, Pa., persons aboard, was reported missing for a time on a run from New York to Atlantic City, N. J., but later was found to have put in safely to Brielle, N. J.

The peak of the storm had passed Norfolk by about noon, by which time gale force winds, torrential rain and heavy surf pounded New Jersey's coast resorts.

Police estimated that some 30,000 people evacuated the Ocean City area of Maryland by noon to escape the possibility of being stranded on the storm-lashed island.

Farmer Ballot Indicates Wheat Quota Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP) — The nation's farmers apparently approved a government proposal to invoke rigid marketing quotas on the 1954 wheat crop in a politically-important referendum today.

Incomplete, unofficial returns from 37 representative wheat growing states gave 153,291 votes for the control program and 33,148 against.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Returns from representative producing areas in today's farmer referendum indicate approval for a government proposal to put the 1954 wheat crop under marketing quotas.

Incomplete and unofficial tallies from 25 states—including several where opposition was strongest—gave 106,452 votes for the control program and 21,562 against.

This was a majority of 83 per cent. Approval by at least two-thirds of those voting was required.

Sizable though incomplete returns from Ohio—counted as an "opposition" state—gave quotas a 66 per cent majority. A large portion of the Kansas vote gave the program a 90 per cent margin.

States included in the total were Alabama, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

50 Americans, In Good Health, Are Released

Marines Restrain Angry South Koreans; Reds Protest 'Abuse'

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Saturday, Aug. 15 (AP)—South Korean repatriates bursting with hate for their Communist captors yelled and aimed blows at Red officers today in the 11th war prisoner exchange that brought 50 more Americans back to freedom.

The Americans and British, 50 of each, apparently were in good health. They smiled and waved to spectators as they clambered from the Communist trucks that brought them from Kaesong, North Korean advance bases.

The Communists now have repatriated a total of 967 American and 419 British. The Reds say they have 2,356 more Americans to send back.

Many of the 300 South Koreans arriving on Korea independence day today were singing and shouting. When they leaped from the Red trucks it took U. S. Marine guards to restrain a few from assaulting the Red officers watching the exchange.

Many Clad Only In Shorts

Many of the ROK repatriates had shed their Communist prison blue uniforms and were clad only in shorts as their trucks arrived.

It was as though the repatriates, all in good shape today, burned to avenge many of their compatriots who arrived in previous exchanges on litters, pitifully emaciated and crippled.

At the Panmunjom exchange point one stocky ROK, tears streaming down his anger-strained face, screamed repeatedly in Korean, "Long Life!"

Another ROK jumped from the truck and aimed a hefty kick at the nearest Chinese Red. It took four American Marines to restrain him and drag him into the processing tent. Communist exchange officers backed away to a safe distance.

American officers said it was the most violent demonstration by the South Koreans since the exchange began 11 days ago.

Reds Protest "Abuse"

In the background of the actual exchange was the rumblings of hot dispute between the Reds and the United States over prisoner treatment.

Peiping radio, heard in Tokyo, said the Communists had lodged a strong protest with the armistice repatriation committee against what the Reds termed "the monstrous American brutal treatment and murder" of Communist POWs in the course of repatriation.

The broadcast said the protest was lodged Friday with the committee meeting at Panmunjom, and that the Reds asked an "explicit answer within three days."

The Reds also accused the Allies of hampering the work of Red Cross teams detailed to prison camps in South Korea.

The broadcast charged Americans with "the forcible retention of a number" of Red prisoners due for repatriation.

This apparently was aimed at countering a statement made by the U. N. Command Friday bluntly telling the Communists that the U. N. expects the return of all men who want to come home.

House Trade-In Idea Given Test

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—How would you like to trade in your old house for a new model, on the same basis as turning in the old family crate on a new car?

The Federal Housing Administration is now conducting tests in six cities to find out whether the idea is feasible.

FHA Commissioner Guy T. Hollyday said today the experiments are designed to find out whether the "used car technique" can be successfully applied to the housing industry.

He said tests exploring the possibilities of FHA assistance to recondition old model homes and then trade them in on new models are being conducted in co-operation with the National Home Builders Association.

Okinawa Braces For Mighty Blow

NAHA, Okinawa, Saturday, Aug. 15 (AP)—This big U. S. island base braced today for a typhoon bearing down from the southeast with some of the most powerful winds ever recorded on earth.

Authorities were confident the U. S. Army and Air Force men and their families would ride out the big blow without danger. The shelters are sturdy and built to withstand typhoons. Food is ample.

Air Force planes who flew into the eye of the typhoon estimated winds at 184 miles an hour and recorded a barometic reading of 26 inches of mercury, which they thought was close to a record.

While gusts have been estimated as high as 250 miles an hour in hurricanes or typhoons, the highest sustained wind velocity at a surface station is 188 miles an hour, according to weather records.

Britain May Take Parley Question To U. N. Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Britain was reported ready tonight to act without United States support, if necessary, and demand that the U. N. General Assembly include Russia and India in the forthcoming Korean political conference.

The U. S.-British split over this issue was as wide as ever.

Assembly Meets Monday

There was no optimism on either side that the rift could be healed before the 60-nation Assembly meets Monday afternoon. But another effort will be made tomorrow when the 16 countries whose forces fought under the U. N. banner in Korea meet for their third private huddle on the question.

Britain was understood to be much more concerned about the possible exclusion of Russia from the Korean conference than about India. The British position is that the conference is virtually doomed in advance unless Russia is a participant.

Repeated British View

Britain was represented as convinced that Russia would never attend as a representative of the Communist belligerents—Red China and North Korea—since this might amount to branding herself as one of the aggressor nations.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., is insisting that only countries which fought for the U. N. have any right to represent the world organization at the parley. This, he said, is the clear meaning of the armistice agreement.

If Russia wants to come as a representative of the Communist side, Lodge said Thursday, the United States will not object.

DETROIT, Aug. 14 (AP)—Car assemblies were halted at two General Motors plants and reduced at another today as a result of Wednesday's 50 million dollar fire at GM's Detroit transmission plant.

Farmers In Maryland 7-1 In Favor Of Quotas

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 14—(AP)—Maryland farmers today voted 7-1 in favor of marketing quotas on the 1954 wheat crop in balloting which drew about 25 per cent of those eligible to vote.

A final tally of 1,799 votes reported by the state Production and Marketing Administration of the Department of Agriculture showed 1,413 in favor of quotas, 217 opposed, 166 challenged ballots and 3 spoiled ballots.

French Strike's Spread Slowing

PARIS, Aug. 14 (AP)—France's strike movement rolled today toward a weekend holiday with indications that its spread had slowed down and a limited number of strikers were drifting back to work.

Not a single flash of violence had developed in the strike, which began Aug. 5 with a walkout of postal, telegraph and telephone workers in anticipation of governmental economy decrees and spread like a grass fire into the rest of the government agencies—gas, electricity, railroads, civil service and coal mines.

Numbers of strikers had been called for only 48 hours ending tomorrow. Because tomorrow is a national holiday—Assumption Day—the workers won't go back to work then or on the following day, Sunday.

The result is that the current scope of the strike—or any back to work movement — won't be known until Monday.

Convicted Of Hiring Pair To Slay Wife

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 14 (AP) — Ernest E. Storch, charged with hiring two men on the installment plan to kill his wife, was convicted of accessory before the fact of murder today by a jury that recommended life imprisonment.

The jury of 10 men and two women was closeted about four and a half hours before returning the verdict.

The commonwealth charged that Storch hired Walter Enderson, 26, and Russell Budd, 28, both Pittsburgh Negroes, to slay his wife, Alice, 49, for a promised $10,000.

Reds Charge Atrocities

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Communist liaison officers in Korea today accused the United States of "atrocities" against war prisoners, Peiping radio announced.

GPO Employe Took Secrets, Probe Told

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A woman witness before the Senate investigations subcommittee was quoted by Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis) today as testifying she had seen a fellow worker at the Government Printing Office take "a secret code."

"She testified she worked next to this Printing Office employe, saw him take classified material on various occasions, put it in his pocket and leave with it," McCarthy said.

The Senator gave this account of the unidentified woman's testimony after a closed door hearing in an investigation of possible security leaks at the huge government printing plant here.

Public Hearings Slated

Public hearings are scheduled to open next Monday. McCarthy said the woman, whom he described as a former Printing Office employe now in business for herself, will be among the witnesses.

He quoted her as testifying that she was an assistant to the individual she saw take secret documents. She said a sizeable number was taken over a considerable period of time.

"She was his assistant until she complained of his stealing material," McCarthy said, "and then she was removed to a different room."

The dates of the incidents were not disclosed by McCarthy, but he indicated it happened several years ago.

Proof Reader Testifies

McCarthy said another witness at the afternoon hearing was a proof reader at the Printing Office who swore he has never belonged to the Communist Party but who has been named in testimony as having attended Communist study club meetings.

The Senator also said the subcommittee has received testimony that the Printing Office Loyalty Board was advised that a Communist Party card had been issued to the proof reader. He was cleared by the board after a hearing, however, McCarthy said.

McCarthy told reporters that both the proof reader and the employe to whom the woman referred to her testimony are still working at the Printing Office.

Nine Former POWs To Reach U. S. Today

HONOLULU, Aug. 14 (AP) — Nine former American war prisoners, eight of them disabled, were scheduled to leave by plane at 4 p.m., EST, today for the U. S. mainland.

The plane, second one of the week to bear Americans liberated from North Korea prison camps homeward from Tokyo, is expected to arrive at Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco, tomorrow at 7 a.m. PDT (9 a.m. EST).

The able-bodied repatriate on the plane is Sgt. Lawrence A. Buzbee of Ruskin, Fla., who is hurrying to the bedside of his father, L. E. Buzbee, critically ill at Ruskin.

Upton Appointed Tobey Successor

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 14 (AP)—Robert W. Upton, 69-year-old Concord lawyer, today was appointed to succeed his long time friend, Charles W. Tobey in the United States Senate.

Upton, a Republican, will serve until January, 1955.

The remaining two years of the late Sen. Tobey's term will be filled at the state elections in November, 1954.

Upton declined comment on whether he would run in 1954.

The appointment was announced by Gov. Hugh Gregg, who was known to be interested in the office himself.

But Gregg said he considered it his "primary obligation to complete my term as Governor."

18 Persons Hurt In Train Wreck

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP) — At least 18 persons were injured and 10 railroad cars were derailed today when a New York Central eastbound passenger express, the Missourian, crashed into a huge highway construction roller stalled on the tracks near here.

Railroad officials reported that more than 1,000 feet of track were ripped up. Two of the Central's four main line tracks were closed, but passenger trains were rerouted on adjoining freight tracks.

None of the Missourian cars overturned. The diesel engine and two rear passenger cars stayed on the tracks.

Relief Supplies Pour To Greek Quake Victims

PATRAI, Greece, Aug. 14 (AP)—Earth tremors moderated today in the stricken Ionian islands and tons of relief supplies—medicines, food, clothing, water — poured from ships and planes to a people dazed by the greatest natural disaster in modern Greek history.

"The situation, although far from normal, is being brought into focus," said a dispatch radioed from the U. S. cruiser Salem, anchored off the ruined port of Argostolion.

The earth trembled 11 times in the night, but the tremors were relatively mild and the Athens Observatory said they could be regarded as a normal aftermath of the catastrophe estimated to have killed more than 1,000 persons.

Mercy Fleet Aids Victims

A mercy fleet of warships under a half dozen flags was battling the misery and desolation spread across Kefallinia, Ithaca, and Zazinthos. Americans, Britons, Israelis, Frenchmen and Italians labored alongside the Greeks.

Helicopters and planes dropped packages of bread, meat and water to survivors huddled in the hills. Mainland hospitals took in hundreds of the injured, often children suffering from shock, and crowded their wards far beyond normal capacity. Tent hospitals and canvas camps arose on the islands themselves to shelter others among the 120,000 people.

Water Distilled By Ships

Field kitchens ladeled out hot food. Trucks and jeeps tackled damaged roads. Bulldozers clawed at debris believed to hold many victims. Thousands of gallons of fresh water were distilled from the sea by U. S. and British warships to meet the crying need of the survivors for water.

King Paul and Queen Frederika toured the worst hit areas of Kefallinia, the 289-square mile island that is the largest of the Ionian group, with a special relief committee which distributed food and clothing in the Queen's name.

Reds Took U. S. Prisoners On 'Murder A Mile' March

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Saturday, Aug. 15 (AP) — U. S. prisoners were taken on a "murder a mile" march deep into North Korea in 1950 on which 500 of them perished, a returned American said yesterday.

Another told of a death march in the cruel cold of 1951 on which a Chinese officer said the strong would survive and the weak would die. Only 200 of 800 men were strong.

Yet another told of a camp where beatings and torture became so commonplace that the prisoners named it "Black Valley."

There also were the usual stories of Americans who sold out their countrymen and spied on their comrades for the Communist captors.

"We lost a man a mile for at least 70 miles by murder," said Pfc. James R. Hunt of Russell, Pa., of an infamous march in November of 1950 under a North Korean called by his victims "the Tiger."

Returned civilians and sick or wounded exchanged last April have told of this march, but Hunt added a little more grim detail.

"The Tiger personally shot an Army lieutenant and the whole column of us witnessed it," Hunt declared.

The prisoners were stoned by Korean civilians when they reached Manpojin, near the Manchurian frontier. It was there that "the Tiger" took over for the "murder a mile" march to a camp farther north.

Hunt estimated that no more than 210 of 723 who started out finished the march. The rest were shot, or died of hunger, disease or wounds.

Sgt. Gerold K. Young of Des Moines said 800 weak and wounded prisoners were taken on a 2-month march from near the front in the bitter winter of 1951. Only 200 made it.

Rhee Predicts Parley Failure

SEOUL, Saturday, Aug. 15 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee told hundreds of thousands of his countrymen today that "it is our wish and determination to march north at the earliest possible time" to achieve unification.

Rhee addressed a mammoth rally at the capitol grounds celebrating the eighth anniversary of liberation from Japan and the fifth anniversary of the founding of the Republic of Korea.

In a speech prepared for delivery, Rhee predicted the forthcoming Korea Political Conference would end in failure.

He charged the Communists would use the conference as a screen for carrying out their program of subversion and of "hateful and hurtful propaganda."

POWs Due August 23

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Navy said today a ship carrying 328 former U. S. prisoners of war will arrive in San Francisco from Korea about 12 p.m. EST Sunday, Aug. 23.

Discouraged Refugee Kills Wife, Daughter And Himself

GARFIELD, N. J., Aug. 14 (AP)—A war-buffeted refugee, discouraged in his struggle to make a new fortune in America like the one he lost to the Nazis, today killed his wife, his pretty daughter and himself.

Alfred E. Cheaure, a once-wealthy Austrian manufacturer who became a machinist when he came here 6 years ago, brooded on his 42nd birthday yesterday.

Then after midnight he struck. He strangled his wife, Margaret, 36, and his daughter, Sylvia, 18, with venetian blind cords.

Three times he tried to catch his 14-year-old son, Alfred Jr., who escaped and summoned aid.

When officers arrived, they found the father's body in the cellar clad only in purple shorts. He had hanged himself with the venetian blind cord, and left only his son alive in the family.

After talking to the horror-stricken boy, Deputy Attorney General Paul T. Huckin called the deaths double murder and suicide.

He said Cheaure, who had been under a doctor's care for nervousness, apparently had worried himself into derangement over his war-time troubles and his financial status.

"The whole family has been working," Huckin said. "I guess it was too much for him."

Huckin said Cheaure also had been jealous, without ground, of his wife. The official took this as an indication Cheaure's mind had been failing.

As Huckin told it, the machinist once was a wealthy sporting goods manufacturer in Austria with a big home manned by a domestic staff.

DETROIT, Aug. 14 (AP)—Car assemblies were halted at two General Motors plants and reduced at another today as a result of Wednesday's 50 million dollar fire at GM's Detroit transmission plant.

Farmers In Maryland 7-1 In Favor Of Quotas

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 14—(AP)—Maryland farmers today voted 7-1 in favor of marketing quotas on the 1954 wheat crop in balloting which drew about 25 per cent of those eligible to vote.

A final tally of 1,799 votes reported by the state Production and Marketing Administration of the Department of Agriculture showed 1,413 in favor of quotas, 217 opposed, 166 challenged ballots and 3 spoiled ballots.

French Strike's Spread Slowing

PARIS, Aug. 14 (AP)—France's strike movement rolled today toward a weekend holiday with indications that its spread had slowed down and a limited number of strikers were drifting back to work.

Not a single flash of violence had developed in the strike, which began Aug. 5 with a walkout of postal, telegraph and telephone workers in anticipation of governmental economy decrees and spread like a grass fire into the rest of the government agencies—gas, electricity, railroads, civil service and coal mines.

Numbers of strikers had been called for only 48 hours ending tomorrow. Because tomorrow is a national holiday—Assumption Day—the workers won't go back to work then or on the following day, Sunday.

The result is that the current scope of the strike—or any back to work movement—won't be known until Monday.

Discouraged Refugee Kills Wife, Daughter And Himself

GARFIELD, N. J., Aug. 14 (AP)—A war-buffeted refugee, discouraged in his struggle to make a new fortune in America like the one he lost to the Nazis, today killed his wife, his pretty daughter and himself.

Alfred E. Cheaure, a once-wealthy Austrian manufacturer who became a machinist when he came here 6 years ago, brooded on his 42nd birthday yesterday.

Then after midnight he struck. He strangled his wife, Margaret, 36, and his daughter, Sylvia, 18, with venetian blind cords.

Three times he tried to catch his 14-year-old son, Alfred Jr., who escaped and summoned aid.

When officers arrived, they found the father's body in the cellar clad only in purple shorts. He had hanged himself with the venetian blind cord, and left only his son alive in the family.

After talking to the horror-stricken boy, Deputy Attorney General Paul T. Huckin called the deaths double murder and suicide.

He said Cheaure, who had been under a doctor's care for nervousness, apparently had worried himself into derangement over his war-time troubles and his financial status.

"The whole family has been working," Huckin said. "I guess it was too much for him."

Huckin said Cheaure also had been jealous, without ground, of his wife. The official took this as an indication Cheaure's mind had been failing.

As Huckin told it, the machinist once was a wealthy sporting goods manufacturer in Austria with a big home manned by a domestic staff.

Convicted Of Hiring Pair To Slay Wife

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 14 (AP)—Ernest E. Storch, charged with hiring two men on the installment plan to kill his wife, was convicted of accessory before the fact of murder today by a jury that recommended life imprisonment.

The jury of 10 men and two women was closeted about four and a half hours before returning the verdict.

The commonwealth charged that Storch hired Walter Enderson, 26, and Russell Budd, 28, both Pittsburgh Negroes, to slay his wife, Alice, 49, for a promised $10,000.

Reds Charge Atrocities

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Communist liaison officers in Korea today accused the United States of "atrocities" against war prisoners, Peiping radio announced.

GPO Employe Took Secrets, Probe Told

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A woman witness before the Senate investigations subcommittee was quoted by Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis) today as testifying she had seen a fellow worker at the Government Printing Office take "a secret code."

"She testified she worked next to this Printing Office employe, saw him take classified material on various occasions, put it in his pocket and leave with it," McCarthy said.

The Senator gave this account of the unidentified woman's testimony after a closed door hearing in an investigation of possible security leaks at the huge government printing plant here.

Public Hearings Slated

Public hearings are scheduled to open next Monday, McCarthy said the woman, whom he described as a former Printing Office employe now in business for herself, will be among the witnesses.

He quoted her as testifying that she was an assistant to the individual she saw take secret documents. She said a sizeable number was taken over a considerable period of time.

"She was his assistant until she complained of his stealing material," McCarthy said, "and then she was removed to a different room."

The dates of the incidents were not disclosed by McCarthy, but he indicated it happened several years ago.

Proof Reader Testifies

McCarthy said another witness at the afternoon hearing was a proof reader at the Printing Office who swore he has never belonged to the Communist Party but who has been named in testimony as having attended Communist study club meetings.

The Senator also said the subcommittee has received testimony that the Printing Office Loyalty Board was advised that a Communist Party card had been issued to the proof reader. He was cleared by the board after a hearing, however, McCarthy said.

McCarthy told reporters that both the proof reader and the employe to whom the woman referred to her testimony are still working at the Printing Office.

HONOLULU, Aug. 14 (AP) — Nine former American war prisoners, eight of them disabled, were scheduled to leave by plane at 4 p.m., EST, today for the U. S. mainland.

The plane, second one of the week to bear Americans liberated from North Korea prison camps homeward from Tokyo, is expected to arrive at Travis Air Force Base, near San Francisco, tomorrow at 7 a.m. PDT (9 a.m. EST).

The able-bodied repatriate on the plane is Sgt. Lawrence A. Buzbee of Ruskin, Fla., who is hurrying to the bedside of his father, L. E. Buzbee, critically ill at Ruskin.

Upton Appointed Tobey Successor

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 14 (AP)—Robert W. Upton, 69-year-old Concord lawyer, today was appointed to succeed his long time friend, Charles W. Tobey in the United States Senate.

Upton, a Republican, will serve until January, 1955.

The remaining two years of the late Sen. Tobey's term will be filled at the state elections in November, 1954.

Upton declined comment on whether he would run in 1954.

The appointment was announced by Gov. Hugh Gregg, who was known to be interested in the office himself.

But Gregg said he considered it his "primary obligation to complete my term as Governor."

18 Persons Hurt In Train Wreck

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP) — At least 18 persons were injured and 10 railroad cars were derailed today when a New York Central eastbound passenger express, the Missourian, crashed into a huge highway construction roller stalled on the tracks near here.

Railroad officials reported that more than 1,000 feet of track were ripped up. Two of the Central's four main line tracks were closed, but passenger trains were rerouted on adjoining freight tracks.

None of the Missourian cars overturned. The diesel engine and two rear passenger cars stayed on the tracks.

Relief Supplies Pour To Greek Quake Victims

PATRAI, Greece, Aug. 14 (AP)—Earth tremors moderated today in the stricken Ionian islands and tons of relief supplies—medicines, food, clothing, water — poured from ships and planes to a people dazed by the greatest natural disaster in modern Greek history.

"The situation, although far from normal, is being brought into focus," said a dispatch radioed from the U. S. cruiser Salem, anchored off the ruined port of Argostolion.

The earth trembled 11 times in the night, but the tremors were relatively mild and the Athens Observatory said they could be regarded as a normal aftermath of the catastrophe estimated to have killed more than 1,000 persons.

Mercy Fleet Aids Victims

A mercy fleet of warships under a half dozen flags was battling the misery and desolation spread across Kefallinia, Ithaca, and Zazinthos. Americans, Britons, Israelis, Frenchmen and Italians labored alongside the Greeks.

Helicopters and planes dropped packages of bread, meat and water to survivors huddled in the hills. Mainland hospitals took in hundreds of the injured, often children suffering from shock, and crowded their wards far beyond normal capacity. Tent hospitals and canvas camps arose on the islands themselves to shelter others among the 120,000 people.

Water Distilled By Ships

Field kitchens ladeled out hot food. Trucks and jeeps tackled damaged roads. Bulldozers clawed at debris believed to hold many victims. Thousands of gallons of fresh water were distilled from the sea by U. S. and British warships to meet the crying need of the survivors for water.

King Paul and Queen Frederika toured the worst hit areas of Kefallinia, the 289-square mile island that is the largest of the Ionian group, with a special relief committee which distributed food and clothing in the Queen's name.

Reds Took U. S. Prisoners On 'Murder A Mile' March

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, Saturday, Aug. 15 (AP) — U. S. prisoners were taken on a "murder a mile" march deep into North Korea in 1950 on which 500 of them perished, a returned American said yesterday.

Another told of a death march in the cruel cold of 1951 on which a Chinese officer said the strong would survive and the weak would die. Only 200 of 800 men were strong.

Yet another told of a camp where beatings and torture became so commonplace that the prisoners named it "Black Valley."

There also were the usual stories of Americans who sold out their countrymen and spied on their comrades for the Communist captors.

"We lost a man a mile for at least 70 miles by murder," said Pfc. James R. Hunt of Russell, Pa., of an infamous march in November of 1950 under a North Korean called by his victims "the Tiger."

Returned civilians and sick or wounded exchanged last April have told of this march, but Hunt added a little more grim detail.

"The Tiger personally shot an Army lieutenant and the whole column of us witnessed it," Hunt declared.

The prisoners were stoned by Korean civilians when they reached Manpojin, near the Manchurian frontier. It was there that "the Tiger" took over for the "murder a mile" march to a camp farther north.

Hunt estimated that no more than 210 of 723 who started out finished the march. The rest were shot, or died of hunger, disease or wounds.

Sgt. Gerold K. Young of Des Moines said 800 weak and wounded prisoners were taken on a 2-month march from near the front in the bitter winter of 1951. Only 200 made it.

Rhee Predicts Parley Failure

SEOUL, Saturday, Aug. 15 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee told hundreds of thousands of his countrymen today that "it is our wish and determination to march north at the earliest possible time" to achieve unification.

Rhee addressed a mammoth rally at the capitol grounds celebrating the eighth anniversary of liberation from Japan and the fifth anniversary of the founding of the Republic of Korea.

In a speech prepared for delivery, Rhee predicted the forthcoming Korea Political Conference would end in failure.

He charged the Communists would use the conference as a screen for carrying out their program of subversion and of "hateful and hurtful propaganda."

POWs Due August 23

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Navy said today a ship carrying 328 former U. S. prisoners of war will arrive in San Francisco from Korea about 12 p.m. EST Sunday, Aug. 23.

Mother-To-Be Turns Bandit

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 14 (AP) — A pretty young expectant mother who said she needed money "for when the baby comes in November" failed today in an attempt to rob a bank with a water pistol.

Teller Mary Madden told officers the attractive brunette, clad in a maternity smock, produced a gun wrapped in a sock and shoved a note across the counter demanding "all the money."

Miss Madden dived to the floor and shouted, "Holdup!" The woman fled but was caught in a nearby store by a bank official.

Detective Sgt. Ed Loftus identified the woman as Mrs. Robin Smith, 20, of Burbank, and quoted her as saying she was out of work, separated from her husband and at "wit's end" how to support her son, 2½, and the expected arrival.

Fairchild Uses New Production Facilities

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 14 (AP) —Fairchild Engine and Aircraft Corp. announced today it has moved its production of C119 Flying Boxcars into new facilities built at a cost of nine million dollars.

The Air Force, largest user of the cargo plane, supplied seven million dollars. The expansion program started in 1951.

At that time, Fairchild employed 6,000 here. The present payroll is about 10,000.

The largest of the new facilities is a production bay, 765 feet long and 200 wide. It adds 153,000 square feet of floor space for final assembly of the big airplanes.

In all, the expansion added 328,000 square feet of floor space to 1,077,383 previously available.

Britain Says It Need Not Fight If Ally Breaks Truce

LONDON, Saturday, Aug. 15 (AP)—The British government said today it is not committed to a renewal of the Korean War if the armistice agreement is broken by "any breach of faith by anyone on our side."

The declaration — apparently aimed at South Korean President Syngman Rhee—was made in a statement issued from No. 10 Downing Street, the official residence of Prime Minister Churchill.

The statement was designed to clarify the British position, and answer Laborite critics, concerning an agreement signed by the 16 United Nations members with troops in Korea. That agreement said the 16 nations would band together and resist any new aggression in Korea.

Shortly after the agreement was announced in New York Aug. 7, the British Foreign Ministry said it did not necessarily commit the British to any definite course of action.

The latest statement went further.

Rhee has threatened he will start fighting again if the peace talks at the Korean political conference fail. The United States also has warned that it will pull out of the talks after 90 days if it feels the Reds are stalling.

Red Demonstrations In Berlin Broken Up

BERLIN, Aug. 14 (AP)—West Berlin police broke up two minor Communist demonstrations today as distribution of free American food packages to East Germans topped the 2½ million mark.

Two hundred Reds fled back 500 yards to Soviet territory after police dispersed their protest march in front of a food station in the French sector. One arrest was made.

Three Communists were jailed for trying to incite West Berlin unemployed to riot at a labor office in the British sector.

About 70,000 Germans from the Soviet zone and 30,000 from East Berlin flocked to the food giveaway today. The package total for 19 days approximated 2,530,000.

President Approves 21 More Measures

DENVER, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed another sheaf of bills into law, whittling to 18 the stack still on his desk.

He plans to act on those tomorrow, and White House Special Counsel Bernard M. Shanley hinted that the President may veto some of them.

A few of those remaining from the pile of bills which Congress passed just before adjourning last week were described as "the headache type" by an Eisenhower aide.

The President approved 21 measures today, most of them allowing claims against the government by private individuals.

Allied Casualties 1,093,839, Reds Say

TOKYO, Saturday, Aug. 15 (AP) — Peiping radio today broadcast a Communist communique claiming the Red armies inflicted a total of 1,093,839 casualties on United Nations forces in the Korean war.

The broadcast heard in Tokyo said the communique listed the American casualties as 397,543 killed, wounded and captured.

The U. S. Defense Department latest casualty report issued Aug. 12 placed total U. S. battle casualties in Korea at 142,294.

Morocco Ruler Bows To French

RABAT, Morocco, Aug. 14 (AP)—The French threw cold water on a budding civil war in this North African protectorate today. They backed up Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef against a powerful Berber rival and exacted agreements from the Sultan to bow to long-standing French demands.

Strong troop and police detachments were deployed ready to head off a feared uprising by ferocious Berber tribal followers of Thami El Glaoui, pro-French Pasha of Marrakech, when the French stepped in. Tension eased tonight and French officials expressed belief that serious trouble had been averted.

The Pasha, known as France's best friend in Morocco for 40 years, had told 350 of his leading followers last night that he was going to make an announcement of supreme importance this morning. It was reported on good authority from Marrakech that the announcement would be proclamation of a new sultan—Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa, the present Sultan's uncle.

That would have meant a bloody uprising and the French acted promptly. El Glaoui, lean, hawk-nosed and very rich, did not make his expected announcements. Instead he went into conference with representatives of Gen. Aulustin Guillaume, French Resident-General in Morocco.

Driverless Auto Sails Mile Down Mountain Road

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Aug. 14 (AP)—Ever hear of a car careening down a mountain road, driverless, for a mile?

Neither had highway patrolmen until last night when they made out the following report:

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Olson of Long Beach, Calif., were returning home with their two daughters from a vacation trip to Lansing, Mich., when their car was hit in the rear by a truck in Cajon Pass on U. S. 66.

The impact threw Olson out of the driver's seat, into the back. The car tipped crazily to one side, righted itself and sailed on down the road—at least a mile, said Olson—before he could climb back behind the wheel and put on the brakes. Luckily, the car encountered no sharp curves while it was driverless.

The Missouri river basin covers one-sixth of the United States.

Grandma Foils Construction Co.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14 (AP)—A seaborne invasion failed to dislodge a 57-year-old grandmother from behind her "chicken wire curtain" today and construction equipment for a $3,000,000 sewer project remained tied up.

Mrs. Wanda K. Sienkielewski contends a construction company has parked the equipment on her property without permission. She wants either a clear-cut agreement on the use of her property or she wants the machines removed.

Meanwhile she's fenced in the equipment and put up a "keep off" sign.

Today, ten construction workers made an amphibious assault up Bear Creek in an effort to recapture a pipe-layer the men need for the sewage job.

Mrs. S. stood her ground—rifle and all—and the invaders, on orders of Police Lieut. Gilbert Deylie, withdrew.

As the barge drew near, Mrs. S. warned them to stay away. As one of the men braved her warning, the grandmother pushed the man back bodily and he retreated to the barge.

Earlier she had untied a rope which the group had used to lasso some of the equipment.

Meanwhile, company officials were mum on any plans they might have.

A foreman for the Leo G. Butler Co. of College Park admitted he could use the impounded equipment but conceded the fence and the sign have stymied his workers.

Baltimore Youths Indicted For Rape

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14 (AP)—Nine youths, including a son of Baltimore's Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, were indicted today on rape charges in the case of two young girl cousins who said they were kept in an apartment and repeatedly assaulted.

A tenth youth was charged with perverted practice in the case.

Three others had previously been indicted on rape charges, and a 14th—a juvenile—was charged with a misdemeanor. His case is pending before juvenile court. The other cases are scheduled for this fall in Youth Court.

The two cousins, one 13 and the other 11, claim the offenses occurred over an eight-day period last month.

On The Wane?

Major lenders of mortgage money are turning from single-family homes to large investment real estate, according to George W. Warnecke, head of a New York mortgage investment firm. Continued annual production of more than a million dwelling units a year has made lenders fear that the housing market may be near saturation.

Warnecke points out that at least 10 million of the country's dwelling units—about one-fifth of the total—are mortgaged single family homes. Their value sustained only by the earning capacity of individuals, they would be vulnerable to the slightest economic upsets.

The Federal Reserve Board reported on August 6 that real estate loans by its member banks had climbed by $1 billion during the year ending June 30. The rise, about eight per cent, brought the total to $12.6 billion. Business loans rose more than eight per cent during the same period; loans to individuals, 25 per cent.

J. A. Loftus, economic analyst for The New York Times, reported on June 6: "Housing apparently is still some distance from the saturation point. Residential construction is going strong and builders are not crying for lack of demand for housing but because they cannot get all the money they want."

Only 107,000 dwelling units were started in May, down 3,000 from the number of starts in April, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Seasonally adjusted, the rate of private dwelling starts dropped even more sharply, by more than 9½ per cent.

"Although the decline (in all dwelling starts) was slight," the bureau reports, "it was rather general throughout the country and represented the first April-May downward movement since World War II. However, although the 104,200 privately owned dwelling units started totaled a little less than the April figure, it was the greatest May volume since the record high of 1950. During the first five months, private housing exceeded last year's January-May volume by 16,100 units; publicly owned units represented a 13,100-unit decrease."

By far the majority of current housing under construction is private. In the first five months of this year, public housing accounted for only about 5½ per cent of dwelling starts.

In a message to the National Housing Conference in Washington on May 11, President Eisenhower said "Americans of all parties" had accepted the "moral obligation" to provide "decent housing for those now compelled to live in slums." Federal Housing Administrator Cole said that the great majority of Americans believed that "public funds should be spent in programs of slum clearance, urban redevelopment and low-rent housing."

The administration in the session of Congress just ended asked authority to put 35,000 new public housing units under construction in the 12 months beginning July 1, as against 75,000 units which had been proposed in the Truman budget. The House voted to suspend the public housing program as of July 1, but the Senate restored the Eisenhower figure of 35,000. The House later accepted a compromise on 20,000 new units, with a proviso that all must be taken from a backlog of 62,000 units already under contract.

Rocket Reality

The fascinating—and fantastic—speculation about the possibility of man hurtling away from earth in a space ship is entering a new phase.

When a trip through the reaches of the universe appeared to be impossible, any imaginative mind could envision details of such a voyage without hindrance. Now that technological developments indicate that success is possible, cold realism appears.

This is illustrated at the meetings of the International Astronautical Federation in Zurich, Switzerland, where Americans are beginning to dominate the activities of approximately 20 rocket societies from all parts of the free world.

The Americans hard-headedly reported that too much money and too many scientists would be tied up in any concerted effort to build a space ship. They pointed out that the establishment of some sort of platform orbiting around the earth would be a better project.

This very reasoning was presented weeks ago by Dr. I. M. Levitt, director of the Fels Planetarium in Philadelphia. Dr. Levitt's trained mind had canvassed the global field of rocket development, and he was the first to suggest that a comparatively inexpensive satellite station was an immediate practicable goal.

Dr. Levitt urged the United States Army Signal Corps to push forward his idea that by the use of existing rocket equipment a miniature beacon could be hurtled out of earth's atmosphere and it would settle into a permanent path, orbiting around the globe at a height of 1,000 miles.

Dr. Levitt's reasoning was calculating enough: Such a "mini" beacon—as he called it—would pay for itself by giving the nation a surveyor's reference point which could straighten out all the inaccuracies of present maps.

Dr. Levitt said that the establishment of a beacon would not be easy, which may have been the understatement of the year. He did say—and the rocket men in Switzerland are saying the same thing—that present developments indicate the problems of establishing a space satellite can be solved fairly quickly. This is in contrast to a space ship for interplanetary travel, where the problems are so complex it will take years to resolve them.

Devotion

At home Christmas of 1950 was as ever a day of quiet rejoicing, of warmth and giving, of singing church bells and promise renewed. How different that Christmas of 1950 was for American prisoners of war.

And yet in spite of the loneliness and misery of the Yalu camps, it was in one way a memorable day, made so by the devotion and sacrifice of two Army chaplains.

One was a Protestant minister, the other a Catholic priest. As the story was told at Freedom Village, they had been forbidden by their captors to hold Christmas services. But the chaplains defied the Communist ban and brought, each to his own, consolation and strength that derives from worship of God.

The sequel came in the prison compound. The chaplains were beaten to death by the savages who held them captive.

Kill these men of God the Communists could and did. But neither torture nor death could extinguish the spirit of devotion to their men and their God that in these martyrs rose above the beastiality of communism and the horror of the prison camp on that Christmas Day, 1950.

How To Keep Well

Food Stockpiles For Emergency

A new machine was described recently in the Farm Journal which may prove a boon to farming. It is a gigantic, self propelled gadget that shreds, plows, disks, and harrows. It covers 30 acres a day and converts a stalk field into a seed bed in one operation. This invention may be another step in the direction of increasing our yield of food.

So far, most civilized countries have been fortunate in forestalling starvation by improving cultivation methods and domesticating animals. Since the potato was introduced in the 16th century many other excellent foodstuffs have come on the market. The proper application of fertilizer, rotation of crops, and storage thru canning and refrigeration have played a role in multiplying the amount produced per acre and in conserving what we grow. The future also looks bright and it is reasonable to assume that some day we will be squeezing proteins from grass and yeast or obtaining an entire meal from the teeming plant and animal life on the ocean floor. Some individuals have gone so far as to consider the ocean the food factory of the future.

It is difficult to believe that those who live in our part of the world will ever be in want of food. The exceptions may occur with war or following many lean years. Of the two, modern wars are the greatest threat. Most of our large cities are dependent upon the efficient transportation of foods but this mechanism could be disrupted easily by a few well placed bombs. Civil defense authorities have taken emergency feeding into consideration. This means serving meals to the destitute, to those deprived of access to food, and to the injured and sick. It has been estimated that the explosion of two atomic bombs over New York, for example, would affect 3 million persons and require the services of 500,000 emergency workers. This job would tax the ingenuity of our best food handlers. Imagine what the situation would be like if a large city were forced to take a similar trimming for weeks and weeks.

In 1952 Doctors Goodhart and Joliffe made recommendations that New Yorkers maintain a shelf of familiar and liked foods which were to be kept fresh by rotation through normal use. These nutriments were to consist of several cans of dry, skim, and evaporated milk. In addition, for each member of the family there ought to be a No. 2 can of fruit juice and of soup, and for the main dish, a can of spaghetti, macaroni, beans, potatoes, hash, stew, or chili. A jar of jam, jelly peanut butter, or marmalade completes the list. To keep the reserve complete and fresh, these physicians suggested that the foods be used and replaced. Furthermore, by shopping every other day or at weekly intervals, most homes could have a one to seven day supply on hand. Let's hope we never will be forced to use such plans, but living in the midst of plenty, as we are, we can afford to keep a small stockpile without being accused of hoarding.

SUGAR AND EMOTIONS

B. Y. writes: How do the emotions affect the sugar level of the blood?

REPLY

I doubt if the stimulation of the adrenal glands and pancreas during an emotional upheaval is sufficient to alter the blood sugar level perceptibly. If the sugar level is already low, nervous symptoms may appear. I have been consulted by patients who have an inferior constitution, with low blood pressure, low metabolism, and low blood sugar. These symptoms were blamed on nervousness but in reality the patients were so physically below par they found it wearing to compete with others.

HYSTERECTOMY AFTERMATH

W. D. writes: One woman I know who suffered from asthma for years has had no trouble since an hysterectomy. Another never had asthma until she had a hysterectomy. This has aroused my curiosity.

REPLY

Your story demonstrates that the presence or absence of the uterus has nothing to do with asthma. Allergies are influenced by so many factors it is difficult to make hard and fast rules. In the examples you mention the different effects may have been influenced by rest in the hospital, anxiety over the operation, or a disturbance in hormonal balance.

COFFEE FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. W. writes: Will coffee disturb a child's growth?

REPLY

Not to my knowledge, unless it disturbs digestion or is used as a substitute for a more nourishing beverage. The obection to coffee for children is that it acts as a stimulant, which youngsters should not need.

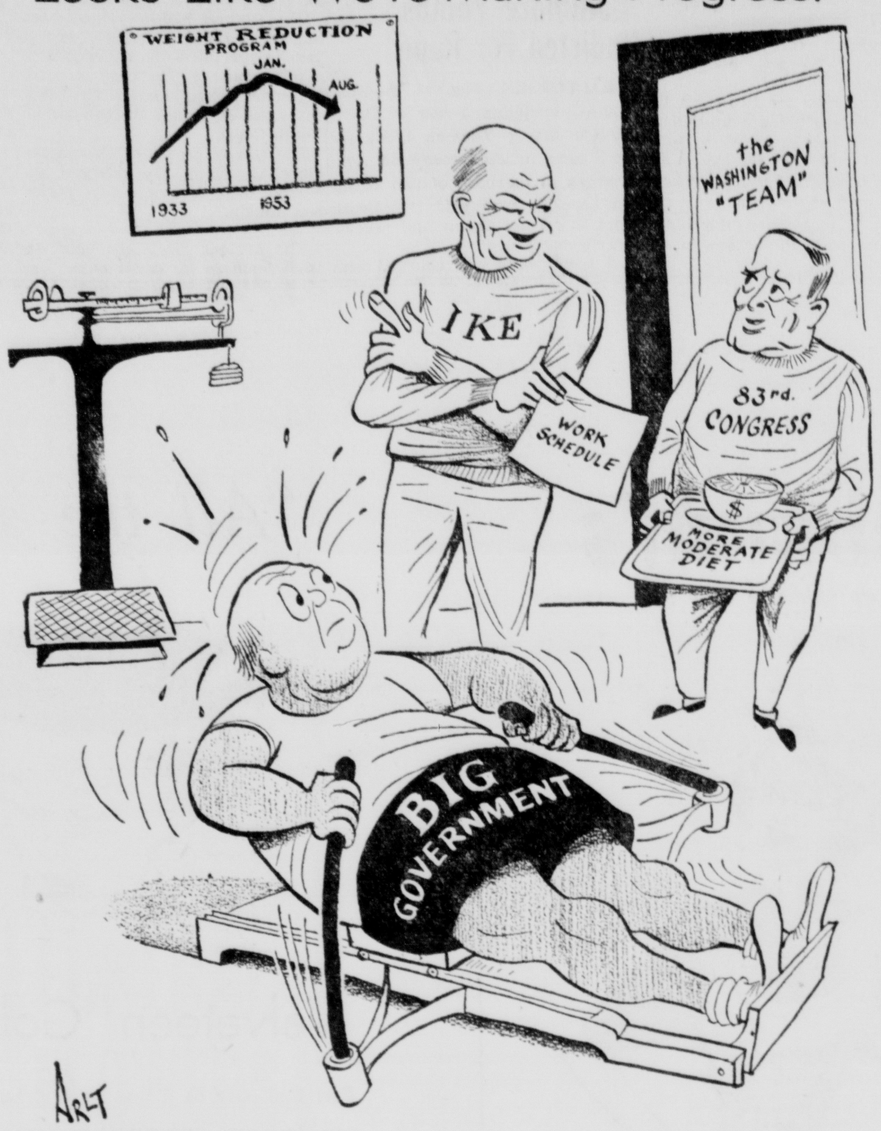

PRICKLY HEAT

Mrs. L. writes: Every summer I suffer from prickly heat. What can be done about it?

83rd Congress Vetoed Any Probe Of Prices; Farmer Gets Less Money While Housewife Pays More; White House Sore Over Taft-Hartley Leak.

WASHINGTON—Sometimes during the rush of a congressional session, the public misses some of the most important things Congress does—or fails to do. Sometimes the session is so hectic that not even congressmen themselves catch all that happens. Accordingly, this column will publish some of the unnoticed actions or lack of action by the 83rd Congress.

One thing the 83rd Congress did do was to turn thumbs down on one of the most overdue probes on the national agenda—to discover exactly who gets what out of the housewife's dollar.

Partly as a result, the Eisenhower administration is now faced with the difficult and embarrassing fact that prices today are higher than ever while the farmer's share is lower than ever.

It was promised that prices would go down when the new administration removed controls last February. Instead, price levels have reached new heights. While beef cattle are selling at record lows, beefsteak is selling in the butcher shops for almost record highs. Yet Congress voted to bar an investigation.

On Sept. 27, President Truman wrote to Federal Trade Commission Chairman Mead asking for a "special investigation to give us a breakdown of the consumer's dollar."

Pointing out that the government needed the information to deal with the complex problems of the modern U. S. economy, Truman said that "powerful interests are at work trying to convince the consumer that it is the farmer who is responsible for the high cost of living . . . although the farmer receives only about half of the consumer's food dollar."

To carry out this vital probe, the Federal Trade Commission asked the 83rd Congress for $186,000. But Congress not only cut out these funds altogether, but took the amazing step of passing a special rider stating that one of the FTC's funds "shall be available for a statistical analysis of the consumer's dollar."

Senators Bricker of Ohio, Dirksen of Illinois, Jenner of Indiana, Hickenlooper of Iowa, and McCarthy of Wisconsin, all Republicans, represent million of farmers and housewives who would like to know just who's taking money out of their pockets. Nevertheless all voted to kill any probe of prices.

The Price Picture

Meanwhile, here's what's happening to the ever-increasing spread between what the housewife pays and what the farmer gets:

In 1945, the farmer got 54 per cent of the housewife's food dollar. In 1951, he got exactly 50 per cent. Today he's getting only 45 per cent.

The decline in the farmer's share is hitting practically all major farm products. Between the second quarter of '52 and the second quarter of this year, the farmer's share of the consumer's beef-dollar declined 36 per cent. In the case of butter, the farmer's share dropped 9 per cent; cheese, 13 per cent; Evaporated milk, 17 per cent; and fluid milk, 7 per cent.

In contrast, middlemen's fees were generally moving upward. Between 1951 and '52 they made 17 per cent more on a pound of beef; 4 per cent more on a pound of bread; and 3 per cent more on a pound of butter.

Simultaneously, the food-processing industry increased its net earnings, after taxes, 11 per cent between the last half of 1951 and the last half of 1952.

Farmers Lose

In addition to the squeeze on food products, farmers are also losing out on other basic commodities. Between December '51 and December '52 the housewife paid 4 per cent less for cotton articles, but the farmer who grew the cotton received 21 per cent less. And as the tobacco manufacturers and middlemen gradually increased their percentage of the consumer's dollar, the tobacco farmer's share dropped 15 per cent.

As the farmer gets less and less of the consumer's dollar, the housewife is paying increasingly more for the farmer's food. In 1951, the average housewife spent $722 per year for her family's farm products. Today, that same housewife has to pay just $1,000 for the same yearly supply of farm food.

Government economists under the new administration are a little timid about talking, but some of them point out that the period when prices were held firmest was under OPAdministrator Leon Henderson and Economic Stabilizer Fred Vinson, now chief justice of the United States. With the relaxation of price controls, they point out, both the consumer and the farmer lost while the big processor gained.

NOTE—Former Federal Trade Commissioner John Carson sparkplugged the proposed investigation of the big processors' profit. When his term of office expired last spring, Eisenhower did not reappoint him.

Washington Pipeline

The White House is determined to fire the official who "leaked" to the Wall Street Journal the administration's tentative plans for revising the Taft-Hartley law. So far, however, it hasn't been possible to fix the blame...Recent drop in demand for steel has threatened to put the steel gougers out of business. Only a month ago the gray marketeers were charging $40 a ton above the normal factory price...the NAM admits its proposed 5 per cent sales tax on all manufactured products, except foods, will hits hardest at low-income families. It'll cost the $4,000-per-year family about $100, but the $10,000-income family only about $200 ... Admiral Radford, new chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, tells friends privately he expects "very serious trouble" in Indo-China within a matter of weeks.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Hostages!

The figure of lost Americans in Korea is variously given as 10,000, 8,000, 3,000, 2,000. It looks as though nobody knows how many Americans are missing, lost, or held as hostages. General Mark Clark seems to think that about 3,000 will be kept back. That means that they will be held as hostages. Or it may mean that they are unreported dead.

I do not think that the actual numbers matter. If the Chinese Communists hold even one American as a political hostage, the American people ought not to take it lying down. If there is an exchange of prisoners, it ought to be a complete exchange. It would be fatuous to suggest that if they hold our sons, we hold some of theirs. What difference would that make to them? In Asia, life is cheap and expendable.

When the first American prisoners came out, they told stories that sounded horrible, but which to me were normal in China. The censors apparently shut off these reports, fearing that they would inflame public opinion in this country. Censorship is generally stupid and in the long run defeats itself. The parents of our boys in Korea know of their tragedies and they cannot be censored. The reporters, who are being bottled up, will get their stories out in due course, if not as news reports then as magazine articles.

General Mark Clark follows his predecessors, Generals Douglas MacArthur, Matthew Ridgway, and James Van Fleet, in telling the American people that the Korean War could have been won had we massed our means, which is a technical way of saying that we did not do the job with all we had available to do it. He has resigned from the Army, quite young, undoubtedly because he is fed up with Pentagon and State Department politics. He follows the example of General Albert C. Wedemeyer who could take no more and is now selling farm machinery and refrigerators as MacArthur is selling electric razors and carbon paper.

These losses to our national defense are appalling. Highly specialized men, of costly technical training, with vast experience in war are being permitted to leave military service to go into private industry while the country still finds it necessary to protect itself. These men are not readily replaced because younger men, while able and equally trained, lack their war experience.

Men of quality will not stay with a service which deliberately rejects the prospect of winning a war and which permits an enemy to hold Americans as hostages. These may sound like strong words, but I have met many officers in the past few years and while the conversations were social rather than for a reporter, the summation of them is that soldiers do not like to lose war if they can give their lives to win them. The morale of our army is low because the generals have not been permitted to do a technically correct job.

In all my years in China, from 1918 to 1931, although I moved about with Chinese armies, I never saw a prison camp. There were none. Prisoners of war were either disarmed and let loose to become bandits, or they were incorporated in the victorious army, or they were killed.

That has been the normal method for centuries, because it was regarded as expensive and unrealistic to waste food on useless people. The most valuable asset of a prisoner of war used to be his arms which were taken from him with whatever other supplies he had. After that, he was of no value at all. Often generals would, when defeat was certain, go over to the enemy so that their troops would not become prisoners. They would negotiate such a transfer of allegiance on a contractual basis, providing so many men for a guaranteed payment not only to themselves but to the account of their troops.

When Army and Navy Intelligence still existed, such details were well-known, but now that the CIA is the sole agency of information, the evaluation of data is on a high political plane rather than on a technical military basis. While the data are always the same because it is the truth, the evaluation is different because the training and experience of the evaluators are different. And so, the truce and exchange of prisoners were made without provision against hostages.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Beardsley Ruml, the man who sponsored the pay-as-you-go income-tax plan which Congress adopted, has come to town with another interesting idea. It is a simple as this—the government should set up its books just like any other business. It should not consider as expenses each year the amounts it spends annually for long-range capital investments.

If such a system were adopted, about $12,000,000,000 could be transferred from the present budget to a capital budget and thus a realistic balance could be achieved as between current outgo and income.

Curiously enough, if American businesses were permitted to do what the government now does—it classifies all spending, even for capital purposes, as expenditures—there would be a deficit in almost every growing company in America and few businesses would even pay any income taxes on profit. For there wouldn't be any.

Thus, if the American Telephone & Telegraph Company borrows $500,000,000 for new plant and equipment to give better telephone service, that whole sum is never classed as an expenditure in one year. It's a capital item, and the only thing included in the expense column is the interest and a small percentage each year for depreciation.

Not A New Idea

The setting up as capital items of all Federal property that could be some day sold and all Federal loans to the public that are made by various government enterprises which in themselves produce income and are represented by assets is not a new idea. The plan has been suggested many times before in academic groups but political folks are afraid of it—they fear the criticism from the opposite political party.

It so happens that Beardsley Ruml is a Democrat and in the last campaign was chairman of the Stevenson finance committee. He himself pooh-poohs any political angle. In a statement he has just made to the House Ways and Means committee, Mr. Ruml said on that point:

"This change has been recommended for years by students, organizations, and government agencies—among them, the committee for Economic Development, the President's Council of Economic Advisers, and the 1949 Senate Subcommittee on Monetary and Fiscal Policy, headed by Senator Douglas (Illinois, Democrat). The change has the support of persons in both parties."

Requires Courage

The new Ruml Plans for a capital budget follows a pattern that states and cities have established in recent years with their "bridge authorities" or "port authorities." It is sound from a bookkeeping standpoint, and the only real opposition has come from those who fear they may be accused of "changing the books." That's why Mr. Ruml says:

'It will require real courage in the administration to recommend these long overdue changes in the statement of the Federal budget. Not only will be the inertia of tradition have to be overcome, but there will be an inevitable amount of cynical comment that the administration is attempting to balance the budget by definition."

Who will make such a cynical comment? The Democrats? Of course not, because they can get farther politically by defending the change. They could reconstruct their own budgets for the last 20 years under the capial plan and offset Republican criticism that they piled up deficits year after year. For many of the Democratic administration's deficits would be erased, too.

Business Approval

Business men, when they fully understood what has been done with the Federal budget system in the past, would applaud the change. Few persons realize that if the government buys a piece of real estate which is worth $100,000, and could bring that sum at a sale, the Federal budget shows the $100,000 as an expense item in one year. It's true that, if the property is sold some day, it is all counted as income but the difficulty is not with items of $100,000. It's with items running into the billions, such as the expenditures for plutonium and uranium—which is like buying gold because the materials are conserved for future use and for the most part are never destroyed. They are assets not likely to be sold right away.

There may be a real stimulus from the new system. It may make those who go to Congress to request capital spending show that their projects will be self-financing over a period of years. This in itself would be a healthy turn. But the biggest advantage would be that all taxes could be reduced, because they would be confined hereafter only to a balance with actual expenditures on a current basis and would not be confused with capital investments.

Adventure

Adventure is indigenous to the race. It belongs to all ages, beginning with childhood and extending to death which is said to be the "most beautiful adventure of all."

No problem that isn't difficult is interesting. Obstacles are spurs, not deterrents to efforts. Man is constitutionally conditioned against backing down or quitting until his goal is reached if it is humanly possible.

By that token, our grandchildren thrice removed may be exchanging calls with the "man from Mars" who has already been hypothetically appearing on our planet for some time, traveling as they will by rocket plane in proverbial Pullman luxury.

Years ago in a one-roomed rectangular school building whose chief items of furniture were the birch rod for discipline and ramshackle two-seater benches for torture, there was enacted a human interest drama involving a venture on the part of the schoolmistress and an adventure on the part of a boy of seven summers.

Nettled by frequent experimental infractions of one of the school's minor rules, the teacher, as a final resort, announced her ultimatum, that if the offense were repeated the offender would be punished by having to set between the "two prettiest girls in school."

That seemed enticing and not punitive at all. The boy livened up to the idea and the teacher was as good as her word.

With chin up and confident swagger he marched to the hot spot between the two twelve-year-old beauties.

Not being a Clark Gable, the young adventurer did not easily adjust to feminine pulchritude in such close proximity. The titterings and pollyannish whisperings of the co-eds added fuel to the flame of his embarrassment.

In such a plight a boy's only refuge is his lachrymose glands. They washed his face with tears (sic) and thoroughly liquidated the old Adam of disobedience within, after which he was permitted to return to his seat, a humble and chastened rebel.

Life is largely made up of adventures for us all. All valiant souls are stirred by the adventures of others, but we like best to have some of our own. Weaklings only become copycats.

Said a friend to the preacher's boy: "I suppose you will follow in the footsteps of your father when you grow up." "No, I expect to make some tracks of my own.

Mathematically, a straight line is the shortest distance between two points, but under certain circumstances the longest way around is the shortest way home. It all depends on "the points."

When, after a fervid courtship, boy says to girl, "Let's get married," and she replies, "But who would have us?" it is evident they have some distance yet to travel before it is time to call in the parson.

On a dude ranch out west a tender foot, fearful of adventure, asked for a safe mount on the ground that he had never ridden a broncho. The hostler replied," That will be easy, we'll give you one that has never been ridden." If he had been game he might have been thrown a few times and suffered some bruises, but he would have been learning how to fall from the saddle without getting hurt, which is the fine art of horsemanship, as the Mexicans say.

Roulette wheels and other gambling devices are not ordained of God for cultural benefits but are designed for financial profit.

Who hopes to buck the economic order and win a fortune by the flip of a coin, is not adventurous; he is simply foolhardy.

There are adventures for us all, waiting just around the corner; adventures in heroism, in friendship, in understanding, in solitude.

Charles A. Lindbergh made a non-stop solo flight across the Atlantic, a distance of 3,600 miles in 33½ hours, landing in Paris May 21, 1927. It was the most sensational aeronautic adventure of that age.

It was a happenstance. It was no daredevil risk. The coolheaded adventurer knew his plane from stem to stern, his engine, his wings, his compass, his fuel tanks and supplies. All had been double checked, and he took no chance. And he had no committee!

In these days of pre-fabricated houses and built-in furniture any builder may, in due precaution in selecting materials, have a house convenient, beautiful and all his own.

And if he is as prudential in building a home for his soul, any man may have a structure against which the floods will beat in vain, because it was well builded and founded on a rock.

For the blueprint of such a house, see Luke, chapter six, and read from the forty-sixth verse to the end of the chapter.

Fraternally yours,

BROTHER BARNABAS

On The Wane?

Major lenders of mortgage money are turning from single-family homes to large investment real estate, according to George W. Warnecke, head of a New York mortgage investment firm. Continued annual production of more than a million dwelling units a year has made lenders fear that the housing market may be near saturation.

Warnecke points out that at least 10 million of the country's dwelling units—about one-fifth of the total—are mortgaged single family homes. Their value sustained only by the earning capacity of individuals, they would be vulnerable to the slightest economic upsets.

The Federal Reserve Board reported on August 6 that real estate loans by its member banks had climbed by $1 billion during the year ending June 30. The rise, about eight per cent, brought the total to $12.6 billion. Business loans rose more than eight per cent during the same period; loans to individuals, 25 per cent.

J. A. Loftus, economic analyst for The New York Times, reported on June 6: "Housing apparently is still some distance from the saturation point. Residential construction is going strong and builders are not crying for lack of demand for housing but because they cannot get all the money they want."

Only 107,000 dwelling units were started in May, down 3,000 from the number of starts in April, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Seasonally adjusted, the rate of private dwelling starts dropped even more sharply, by more than 9½ per cent.

"Although the decline (in all dwelling starts) was slight," the bureau reports, "it was rather general throughout the country and represented the first April-May downward movement since World War II. However, although the 104,200 privately owned dwelling units started totaled a little less than the April figure, it was the greatest May volume since the record high of 1950. During the first five months, private housing exceeded last year's January-May volume by 16,100 units; publicly owned units represented a 13,100-unit decrease."

By far the majority of current housing under construction is private. In the first five months of this year, public housing accounted for only about 5½ per cent of dwelling starts.

In a message to the National Housing Conference in Washington on May 11, President Eisenhower said "Americans of all parties" had accepted the "moral obligation" to provide "decent housing for those now compelled to live in slums." Federal Housing Administrator Cole said that the great majority of Americans believed that "public funds should be spent in programs of slum clearance, urban redevelopment and low-rent housing."

The administration in the session of Congress just ended asked authority to put 35,000 new public housing units under construction in the 12 months beginning July 1, as against 75,000 units which had been proposed in the Truman budget. The House voted to suspend the public housing program as of July 1, but the Senate restored the Eisenhower figure of 35,000. The House later accepted a compromise on 20,000 new units, with a proviso that all must be taken from a backlog of 62,000 units already under contract.

Rocket Reality

The fascinating—and fantastic—speculation about the possibility of man hurtling away from earth in a space ship is entering a new phase.

When a trip through the reaches of the universe appeared to be impossible, any imaginative mind could envision details of such a voyage without hindrance. Now that technological developments indicate that success is possible, cold realism appears.

This is illustrated at the meetings of the International Astronautical Federation in Zurich, Switzerland, where Americans are beginning to dominate the activities of approximately 20 rocket societies from all parts of the free world.

The Americans hard-headedly reported that too much money and too many scientists would be tied up in any concerted effort to build a space ship. They pointed out that the establishment of some sort of platform orbiting around the earth would be a better project.

This very reasoning was presented weeks ago by Dr. I. M. Levitt, director of the Fels Planetarium in Philadelphia. Dr. Levitt's trained mind had canvassed the global field of rocket development, and he was the first to suggest that a comparatively inexpensive satellite station was an immediate practicable goal.

Dr. Levitt urged the United States Army Signal Corps to push forward his idea that by the use of existing rocket equipment a miniature beacon could be hurtled out of earth's atmosphere and it would settle into a permanent path, orbiting around the globe at a height of 1,000 miles.

Dr. Levitt's reasoning was calculating enough: Such a "mini" beacon—as he called it—would pay for itself by giving the nation a surveyor's reference point which could straighten out all the inaccuracies of present maps.

Dr. Levitt said that the establishment of a beacon would not be easy, which may have been the understatement of the year. He did say—and the rocket men in Switzerland are saying the same thing—that present developments indicate the problems of establishing a space satellite can be solved fairly quickly. This is in contrast to a space ship for interplanetary travel, where the problems are so complex it will take years to resolve them.

Devotion

At home Christmas of 1950 was as ever a day of quiet rejoicing, of warmth and giving, of singing church bells and promise renewed. How different that Christmas of 1950 was for American prisoners of war.

And yet in spite of the loneliness and misery of the Yalu camps, it was in one way a memorable day, made so by the devotion and sacrifice of two Army chaplains.

One was a Protestant minister, the other a Catholic priest. As the story was told at Freedom Village, they had been forbidden by their captors to hold Christmas services. But the chaplains defied the Communist ban and brought, each to his own, consolation and strength that derives from worship of God.

The sequel came in the prison compound. The chaplains were beaten to death by the savages who held them captive.

Kill these men of God the Communists could and did. But neither torture nor death could extinguish the spirit of devotion to their men and their God that in these martyrs rose above the beastiality of communism and the horror of the prison camp on that Christmas Day, 1950.

How To Keep Well

Food Stockpiles For Emergency

A new machine was described recently in the Farm Journal which may prove a boon to farming. It is a gigantic, self propelled gadget that shreds, plows, disks, and harrows. It covers 30 acres a day and converts a stalk field into a seed bed in one operation. This invention may be another step in the direction of increasing our yield of food.

So far, most civilized countries have been fortunate in forestalling starvation by improving cultivation methods and domesticating animals. Since the potato was introduced in the 16th century many other excellent foodstuffs have come on the market. The proper application of fertilizer, rotation of crops, and storage thru canning and refrigeration have played a role in multiplying the amount produced per acre and in conserving what we grow. The future also looks bright and it is reasonable to assume that some day we will be squeezing proteins from grass and yeast or obtaining an entire meal from the teeming plant and animal life on the ocean floor. Some individuals have gone so far as to consider the ocean the food factory of the future.

It is difficult to believe that those who live in our part of the world will ever be in want of food. The exceptions may occur with war or following many lean years. Of the two, modern wars are the greatest threat. Most of our large cities are dependent upon the efficient transportation of foods but this mechanism could be disrupted easily by a few well placed bombs. Civil defense authorities have taken emergency feeding into consideration. This means serving meals to the destitute, to those deprived of access to food, and to the injured and sick. It has been estimated that the explosion of two atomic bombs over New York, for example, would affect 3 million persons and require the services of 500,000 emergency workers. This job would tax the ingenuity of our best food handlers. Imagine what the situation would be like if a large city were forced to take a similar trimming for weeks and weeks.

In 1952 Doctors Goodhart and Joliffe made recommendations that New Yorkers maintain a shelf of familiar and liked foods which were to be kept fresh by rotation through normal use. These nutriments were to consist of several cans of dry, skim, and evaporated milk. In addition, for each member of the family there ought to be a No. 2 can of fruit juice and of soup, and for the main dish, a can of spaghetti, macaroni, beans, potatoes, hash, stew, or chili. A jar of jam, jelly peanut butter, or marmalade completes the list. To keep the reserve complete and fresh, these physicians suggested that the foods be used and replaced. Furthermore, by shopping every other day or at weekly intervals, most homes could have a one to seven day supply on hand. Let's hope we never will be forced to use such plans, but living in the midst of plenty, as we are, we can afford to keep a small stockpile without being accused of hoarding.

SUGAR AND EMOTIONS

B. Y. writes: How do the emotions affect the sugar level of the blood?

REPLY

I doubt if the stimulation of the adrenal glands and pancreas during an emotional upheaval is sufficient to alter the blood sugar level perceptibly. If the sugar level is already low, nervous symptoms may appear. I have been consulted by patients who have an inferior constitution, with low blood pressure, low metabolism, and low blood sugar. These symptoms were blamed on nervousness but in reality the patients were so physically below par they found it wearing to compete with others.

HYSTERECTOMY AFTERMATH

W. D. writes: One woman I know who suffered from asthma for years has had no trouble since an hysterectomy. Another never had asthma until she had a hysterectomy. This has aroused my curiosity.

REPLY

Your story demonstrates that the presence or absence of the uterus has nothing to do with asthma. Allergies are influenced by so many factors it is difficult to make hard and fast rules. In the examples you mention the different effects may have been influenced by rest in the hospital, anxiety over the operation, or a disturbance in hormonal balance.

COFFEE FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. W. writes: Will coffee disturb a child's growth?

REPLY

Not to my knowledge, unless it disturbs digestion or is used as a substitute for a more nourishing beverage. The obection to coffee for children is that it acts as a stimulant, which youngsters should not need.

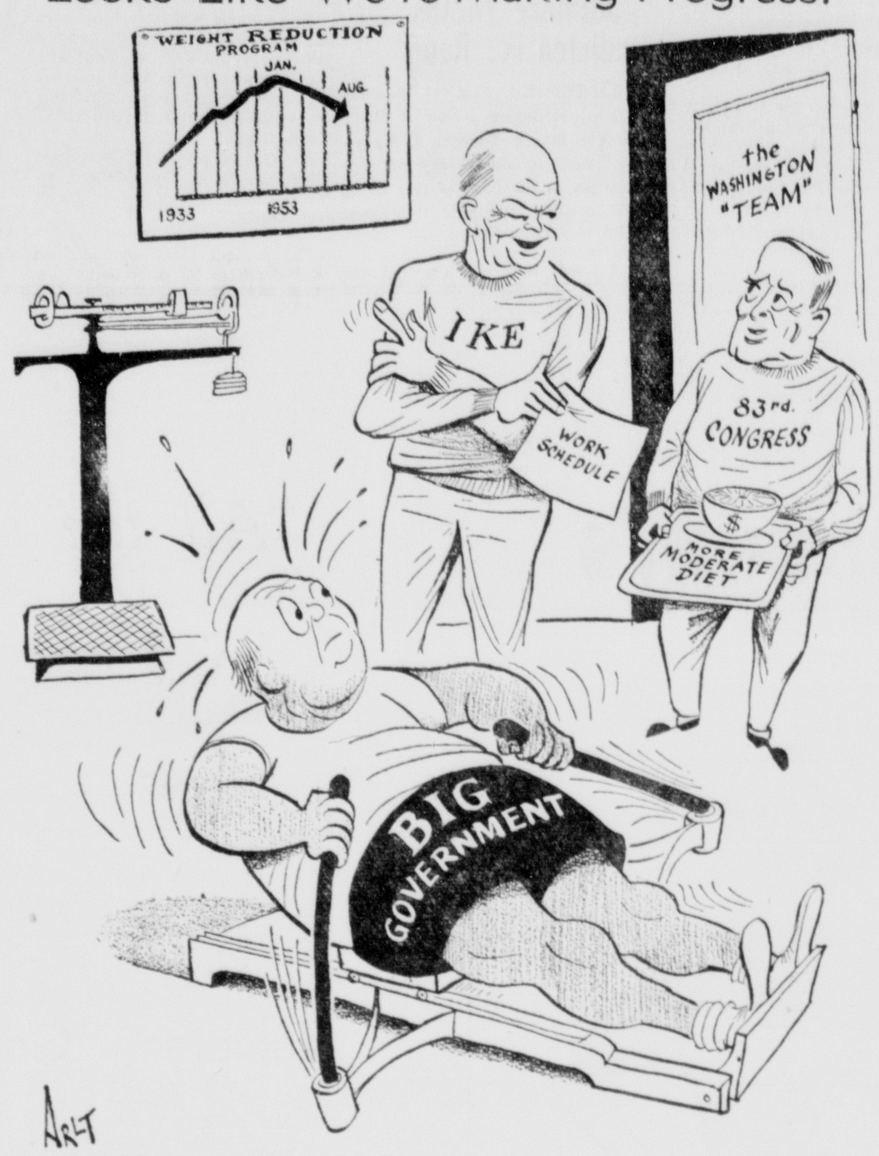

PRICKLY HEAT

83rd Congress Vetoed Any Probe Of Prices; Farmer Gets Less Money While Housewife Pays More; White House Sore Over Taft-Hartley Leak.

WASHINGTON—Sometimes during the rush of a congressional session, the public misses some of the most important things Congress does—or fails to do. Sometimes the session is so hectic that not even congressmen themselves catch all that happens. Accordingly, this column will publish some of the unnoticed actions or lack of action by the 83rd Congress.

One thing the 83rd Congress did do was to turn thumbs down on one of the most overdue probes on the national agenda—to discover exactly who gets what out of the housewife's dollar.

Partly as a result, the Eisenhower administration is now faced with the difficult and embarrassing fact that prices today are higher than ever while the farmer's share is lower than ever.

It was promised that prices would go down when the new administration removed controls last February. Instead, price levels have reached new heights. While beef cattle are selling at record lows, beefsteak is selling in the butcher shops for almost record highs. Yet Congress voted to bar an investigation.

On Sept. 27, President Truman wrote to Federal Trade Commission Chairman Mead asking for a "special investigation to give us a breakdown of the consumer's dollar."

Pointing out that the government needed the information to deal with the complex problems of the modern U. S. economy, Truman said that "powerful interests are at work trying to convince the consumer that it is the farmer who is responsible for the high cost of living . . . although the farmer receives only about half of the consumer's food dollar."

To carry out this vital probe, the Federal Trade Commission asked the 83rd Congress for $186,000. But Congress not only cut out these funds altogether, but took the amazing step of passing a special rider stating that one of the FTC's funds "shall be available for a statistical analysis of the consumer's dollar."

Senators Bricker of Ohio, Dirksen of Illinois, Jenner of Indiana, Hickenlooper of Iowa, and McCarthy of Wisconsin, all Republicans, represent million of farmers and housewives who would like to know just who's taking money out of their pockets. Nevertheless all voted to kill any probe of prices.

The Price Picture

Meanwhile, here's what's happening to the ever-increasing spread between what the housewife pays and what the farmer gets:

In 1945, the farmer got 54 per cent of the housewife's food dollar. In 1951, he got exactly 50 per cent. Today he's getting only 45 per cent.

The decline in the farmer's share is hitting practically all major farm products. Between the second quarter of '52 and the second quarter of this year, the farmer's share of the consumer's beef-dollar declined 36 per cent. In the case of butter, the farmer's share dropped 9 per cent; cheese, 13 per cent; Evaporated milk, 17 per cent; and fluid milk, 7 per cent.

In contrast, middlemen's fees were generally moving upward. Between 1951 and '52 they made 17 per cent more on a pound of beef; 4 per cent more on a pound of bread; and 3 per cent more on a pound of butter.

Simultaneously, the food-processing industry increased its net earnings, after taxes, 11 per cent between the last half of 1951 and the last half of 1952.

Farmers Lose

In addition to the squeeze on food products, farmers are also losing out on other basic commodities. Between December '51 and December '52 the housewife paid 4 per cent less for cotton articles, but the farmer who grew the cotton received 21 per cent less. And as the tobacco manufacturers and middlemen gradually increased their percentage of the consumer's dollar, the tobacco farmer's share dropped 15 per cent.

As the farmer gets less and less of the consumer's dollar, the housewife is paying increasingly more for the farmer's food. In 1951, the average housewife spent $722 per year for her family's farm products. Today, that same housewife has to pay just $1,000 for the same yearly supply of farm food.

Government economists under the new administration are a little timid about talking, but some of them point out that the period when prices were held firmest was under OPAdministrator Leon Henderson and Economic Stabilizer Fred Vinson, now chief justice of the United States. With the relaxation of price controls, they point out, both the consumer and the farmer lost while the big processor gained.

NOTE—Former Federal Trade Commissioner John Carson sparkplugged the proposed investigation of the big processors' profit. When his term of office expired last spring, Eisenhower did not reappoint him.

Washington Pipeline

The White House is determined to fire the official who "leaked" to the Wall Street Journal the administration's tentative plans for revising the Taft-Hartley law. So far, however, it hasn't been possible to fix the blame... Recent drop in demand for steel has threatened to put the steel gougers out of business. Only a month ago the gray marketeers were charging $40 a ton above the normal factory price... the NAM admits its proposed 5 per cent sales tax on all manufactured products, except foods, will hits hardest at low-income families. It'll cost the $4,000-per-year family about $100, but the $10,000-income family only about $200 ... Admiral Radford, new chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, tells friends privately he expects "very serious trouble" in Indo-China within a matter of weeks.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Hostages!

The figure of lost Americans in Korea is variously given as 10,000, 8,000, 3,000, 2,000. It looks as though nobody knows how many Americans are missing, lost, or held as hostages. General Mark Clark seems to think that about 3,000 will be kept back. That means that they will be held as hostages. Or it may mean that they are unreported dead.

I do not think that the actual numbers matter. If the Chinese Communists hold even one American as a political hostage, the American people ought not to take it lying down. If there is an exchange of prisoners, it ought to be a complete exchange. It would be fatuous to suggest that if they hold our sons, we hold some of theirs. What difference would that make to them? In Asia, life is cheap and expendable.

When the first American prisoners came out, they told stories that sounded horrible, but which to me were normal in China. The censors apparently shut off these reports, fearing that they would inflame public opinion in this country. Censorship is generally stupid and in the long run defeats itself. The parents of our boys in Korea know of their tragedies and they cannot be censored. The reporters, who are being bottled up, will get their stories out in due course, if not as news reports then as magazine articles.

General Mark Clark follows his predecessors, Generals Douglas MacArthur, Matthew Ridgway, and James Van Fleet, in telling the American people that the Korean War could have been won had we massed our means, which is a technical way of saying that we did not do the job with all we had available to do it. He has resigned from the Army, quite young, undoubtedly because he is fed up with Pentagon and State Department politics. He follows the example of General Albert C. Wedemeyer who could take no more and is now selling farm machinery and refrigerators as MacArthur is selling electric razors and carbon paper.

These losses to our national defense are appalling. Highly specialized men, of costly technical training, with vast experience in war are being permitted to leave military service to go into private industry while the country still finds it necessary to protect itself. These men are not readily replaced because younger men, while able and equally trained, lack their war experience.

Men of quality will not stay with a service which deliberately rejects the prospect of winning a war and which permits an enemy to hold Americans as hostages. These may sound like strong words, but I have met many officers in the past few years and while the conversations were social rather than for a reporter, the summation of them is that soldiers do not like to lose war if they can give their lives to win them. The morale of our army is low because the generals have not been permitted to do a technically correct job.

In all my years in China, from 1918 to 1931, although I moved about with Chinese armies, I never saw a prison camp. There were none. Prisoners of war were either disarmed and let loose to become bandits, or they were incorporated in the victorious army, or they were killed.

That has been the normal method for centuries, because it was regarded as expensive and unrealistic to waste food on useless people. When Army and Navy Intelligence still existed, such details were well-known, but now that the CIA is the sole agency of information, the evaluation of data is on a high political plane rather than on a technical military basis. While the data are always the same because it is the truth, the evaluation is different because the training and experience of the evaluators are different. And so, the truce and exchange of prisoners were made without provision against hostages.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Beardsley Ruml, the man who sponsored the pay-as-you-go income-tax plan which Congress adopted, has come to town with another interesting idea. It is a simple as this—the government should set up its books just like any other business. It should not consider as expenses each year the amounts it spends annually for long-range capital investments.

If such a system were adopted, about $12,000,000,000 could be transferred from the present budget to a capital budget and thus a realistic balance could be achieved as between current outgo and income.

For many of the Democratic administration's deficits would be erased, too.

Business Approval

Business men, when they fully understood what has been done with the Federal budget system in the past, would applaud the change. Few persons realize that if the government buys a piece of real estate which is worth $100,000, and could bring that sum at a sale, the Federal budget shows the $100,000 as an expense item in one year. It's true that, if the property is sold some day, it is all counted as income but the difficulty is not with items of $100,000. It's with items running into the billions, such as the expenditures for plutonium and uranium—which is like buying gold because the materials are conserved for future use and for the most part are never destroyed. They are assets not likely to be sold right away.

There may be a real stimulus from the new system. It may make those who go to Congress to request capital spending show that their projects will be self-financing over a period of years. This in itself would be a healthy turn. But the biggest advantage would be that all taxes could be reduced, because they would be confined hereafter only to a balance with actual expenditures on a current basis and would not be confused with capital investments.

Here And Now

Adventure

Adventure is indigenous to the race. It belongs to all ages, beginning with childhood and extending to death which is said to be the "most beautiful adventure of all."

No problem that isn't difficult is interesting. Obstacles are spurs, not deterrents to efforts. Man is constitutionally conditioned against backing down or quitting until his goal is reached if it is humanly possible.

By that token, our grandchildren thrice removed may be exchanging calls with the "man from Mars" who has already been hypothetically appearing on our planet for some time, traveling as they will by rocket plane in proverbial Pullman luxury.

Years ago in a one-roomed rectangular school building whose chief items of furniture were the birch rod for discipline and ramshackle two-seater benches for torture, there was enacted a human interest drama involving a venture on the part of the schoolmistress and an adventure on the part of a boy of seven summers.

Nettled by frequent experimental infractions of one of the school's minor rules, the teacher, as a final resort, announced her ultimatum, that if the offense were repeated the offender would be punished by having to set between the "two prettiest girls in school."

That seemed enticing and not punitive at all. The boy livened up to the idea and the teacher was as good as her word.

With chin up and confident swagger he marched to the hot spot between the two twelve-year-old beauties.

Not being a Clark Gable, the young adventurer did not easily adjust to feminine pulchritude in such close proximity. The titterings and pollyannish whisperings of the co-eds added fuel to the flame of his embarrassment.

In such a plight a boy's only refuge is his lachrymose glands. They washed his face with tears (sic) and thoroughly liquidated the old Adam of disobedience within, after which he was permitted to return to his seat, a humble and chastened rebel.

Life is largely made up of adventures for us all. All valiant souls are stirred by the adventures of others, but we like best to have some of our own. Weaklings only become copycats.

Said a friend to the preacher's boy: "I suppose you will follow in the footsteps of your father when you grow up." "No, I expect to make some tracks of my own.

Mathematically, a straight line is the shortest distance between two points, but under certain circumstances the longest way around is the shortest way home. It all depends on "the points.".

When, after a fervid courtship, boy says to girl, "Let's get married," and she replies, "But who would have us?" it is evident they have some distance yet to travel before it is time to call in the parson.

On a dude ranch out west a tender foot, fearful of adventure, asked for a safe mount on the ground that he had never ridden a broncho. The hostler replied." That will be easy, we'll give you one that has never been ridden." If he had been game he might have been thrown a few times and suffered some bruises, but he would have been learning how to fall from the saddle without getting hurt, which is the fine art of horsemanship, as the Mexicans say.

Roulette wheels and other gambling devices are not ordained of God for cultural benefits but are designed for financial profit.

Who hopes to buck the economic order and win a fortune by the flip of a coin, is not adventurous; he is simply foolhardy.

There are adventures for us all, waiting just around the corner; adventures in heroism, in friendship, in understanding, in solitude.

Charles A. Lindbergh made a non-stop solo flight across the Atlantic, a distance of 3,600 miles in 33½ hours, landing in Paris May 21, 1927. It was the most sensational aeronautic adventure of that age.

It was a happenstance. It was no daredevil risk. The coolheaded adventurer knew his plane from stem to stern, his engine, his wings, his compass, his fuel tanks and supplies. All had been double checked, and he took no chance. And he had no committee!

In these days of pre-fabricated houses and built-in furniture any builder may, in due precaution in selecting materials, have a house convenient, beautiful and all his own.

And if he is as prudential in building a home for his soul, any man may have a structure against which the floods will beat in vain, because it was well builded and founded on a rock.

For the blueprint of such a house, see Luke, chapter six, and read from the forty-sixth verse to the end of the chapter.

Fraternally yours,

BROTHER BARNABAS

Fringe Of Hurricane Lashes Maryland Coast; Damage Light

OCEAN CITY, Md., Aug. 14 (AP)—Hurricane Barbara roared along Maryland's coast today, throwing a scare into some areas before howling on north.

No major damage nor injuries were reported.

Rain and wind lashed the Eastern Shore. High waves smashed the Ocean City beach.

Thousands pulled out of this resort city and the surrounding area as police and Coast Guard issued warnings of the approaching howler. But they could have stayed where they were.

Some water swirled into Ocean City streets from drenching rains and waves rolled in about 20 yards from some sections of the boardwalk. Rain flooded some shops and other water front buildings.

Winds at Ocean City ranged as high as 52 miles an hour, tore off shingles, blew down signs, and some power lines and sent waves 10 to 15 feet high crashing through the inlet. The wind also piled sand on the boardwalk in some places in mounds eight or nine inches deep.

At Salisbury there was heavy rain and wind up to 45 miles an hour.

Abnormally high tides and high waves were reported from many points along the coast.

But late in the afternoon, Maryland state police at Ocean City reported the "storm appears to be at its peak as far as this area is concerned and it is anticipated that it should abate somewhat."

Police said that U. S. Route 50 out of Ocean City was open but had high water in places. It said secondary roads in the area were being covered with tidal waters at extreme low areas.

Leitersburg Prefers Trees To Wider Road

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 14 (AP)—Residents of the little town of Leitersburg north of here, who prefer their shade trees to traffic noise, will have a say before the State Roads Commission.

State Sen. D. K. McLaughlin (R-Washington) said today he had arranged a hearing for Aug. 25th in Baltimore on the citizens' protest against plans to widen Route 60 through the middle of town.

The widening of the road is included in the state's 12-year highway program to improve traffic conditions into the Fort Ritchie area.

It would require removal of shade trees and narrowing of sidewalks in Leitersburg.

GALLUP, N. M., Aug. 14 (AP)—Gouverneur Morris, 77, widely known novelist and former Monterey, Calif., bank president, died today of a heart attack.

Shaulis Receives 10-Year Sentence

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 14 (AP)—Francis Shaulis Jr., 31-year-old father of five boys, was sentenced to ten years in prison today for the pistol slaying of his wife, Mary Ann.

She was shot to death in their Harundale cottage early the morning June 12. Shaulis, a Purple Heart veteran who served in Europe with the Army's Rangers, fled with the five children in the family car. He surrendered about 40 hours later at Hagerstown after driving through Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

He testified he "was afraid of police" and that he "didn't think anybody would believe it was an accident."

He said the pistol went off as he was "shuffling" the clip in an effort to remove the bullets.

Quirino To Leave Johns Hopkins Today

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines and his aides made final plans today for leaving Johns Hopkins Hospital tomorrow on a long journey home to Manila and the political wars.

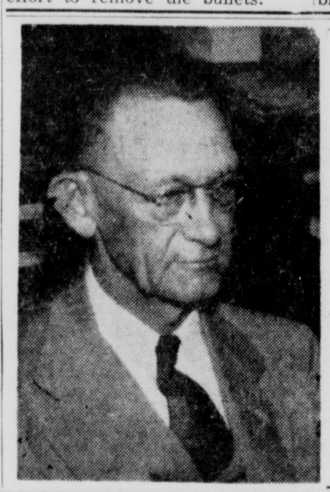

His last day at the hospital, where he has spent 6½ weeks while undergoing two serious stomach operations, was taken up receiving callers, resting and conferring with aides about tomorrow's trip to Washington.

He also received a telephone call from San Francisco from Acting Defense Secretary Oscar Castelo, who will meet him in Washington Sunday.

There were reports Castelo was bringing documents on the surrender of Huk guerillas in the Philippines.

The president plans to spend a week in Washington before beginning the flight by easy stages which will return him to Manila by Sept. 4. In Washington, he hopes to talk with some members of the Eisenhower cabinet, congressmen and others.

Jacob B. Humbird, et al, Trustees, Ex Parte. No. 3999 Equity In The Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION REGARDING THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE TRUST CREATED FOR THE BENEFIT OF LYDIA H. HITCHCOCK

The object and purpose of the petition filed in these proceedings by The Liberty Trust Company, Substituted Trustee, on July 23rd, 1953, is to determine the persons entitled to receive the corpus of approximately $6,000.00 and accumulated income of about $1,565.54, now in the possession of said The Liberty Trust Company, of Cumberland, Maryland, as Substituted Trustee, which corpus and income represents the share of the late Mrs. Lydia H. Hitchcock, who died on or about November 4, 1952, in the trust created in 1891 by the will of the late Sarah A. Humbird. The petition alleges that by the aforesaid will of said Sarah A. Humbird said Testatrix gave each of her six children, namely, John J. Humbird, Mrs. Sarah Swartzwelder, Mrs. Susan J. Morris, Mrs. Anna Mary DeVries, Jacob B. Humbird, and Mrs. Lydia H. Hitchcock, a one-sixth life interest in the aforesaid trust of the residue of her estate, made certain special provisions in the cases of said John J. Humbird and Mrs. Susan J. Morris, and, subject to such special provisions, provided that on the death of each child his or her one-sixth interest should go absolutely to his or her children and grandchildren, and in the absence of any child or grandchild, should go to the other beneficiaries of the trust; that all of said six children of said Testatrix, except Mrs. Lydia H. Hitchcock, died prior to 1950, most of them having died many years prior thereto, and their respective shares of said trust have heretofore been distributed in these proceedings to those entitled to such shares, so that the only remaining part of said trust is the share or interest of the said Mrs. Lydia H. Hitchcock, and it is now the duty of said Substituted Trustee to distribute such share. Said petition also recites that every effort has been made to determine those who are or may claim to be entitled to share in said trust estate, and that apparently these are:

RESIDING IN MARYLAND:

Eleanor C. Johnston, 328 Fayette Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

Mrs. Lydia H. Sturtevant, 330 Cumberland Street, Cumberland, Md.

Maude Parker Confey, 122 South Liberty Street, Cumberland, Md.

John T. Conley, 122 South Liberty Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

William DeVries, LaVale, Cumberland, Maryland.

Mrs. Louise Humbird Hamilton, 203 Mary Street, Cumberland, Md.

Mrs. A. E. (Mary Shearer) Henze, 407 Surrey Avenue, Chevy Chase, Md.

That all of the foregoing residents of Maryland are adults.

Karen McCreery, an infant now about five years old, who resides with her father, Frank McCreery, at 205 Springdale Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

NON-RESIDENTS OF MARYLAND:

Mrs. Sarah H. Swartzwelder, 3216 Versailles Avenue, McKeesport, Pennsylvania.

William P. Conley, 1862 Ontario Place, Northwest, Washington, D. C.

Edward A. Conley and David F. Conley, 1358 Broad Street, Augusta, Georgia.

Vere Hobart and Donald Bayne Hobart, 371 Wadsworth Avenue, New York City.

Mrs. Clarence H. (Virginia) Osborne, Russell, Kentucky.

William DeVries Millholland, P. O. Box 1027, Charlottesville, Virginia.

Mrs. Ivan Selvage, Box A-39, 377 East Main Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Robert (Marie) Clark, Louisa, Virginia.

Mrs. John K. Millholland, Jr., Box 275, Louisa, Virginia.

John K. Millholland, III, an infant about 19 years of age, now serving in the United States Army.

Mrs. Rosann Collins, Route 2, Bur-Wood, Romulus, New York.

Mrs. Blaine Nichols, 4876 Thirteenth Street, Southwest, Canton, Ohio.

Roberta Humbird, 418 Sherman Drive, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Mrs. George B. (Lyda) Tupper, 5754 North Kenmore Avenue, Chicago 40, Illinois.

Mrs. Douglas H. (Mary) Harnish, 246 Carr Avenue, Clarksburg, West Virginia.

Miss Genevieve Austin Smith, 235 East Main Street, Clarksburg, West Virginia.

That all the foreging non-residents of Maryland are adults, except the aforesaid John K. Millholland, III.

That Eleanor C. Johnston is apparently entitled to the balance of the accumulated income on hand at the time of the death of the said Lydia H. Hitchcock, after payment of funeral expenses and other unpaid bills, under the terms of the last will and testament of said Lydia H. Hitchcock.

That there may possibly be other persons, unknown to the Trustee, who might be entitled to share in the trust estate, or whose rights may be affected by the distribution thereof; and that the Trustee is entitled to have notice given to such unknown persons under the provisions of Section 242 of Article 16 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, 1951 Edition, of the proposed distribution of such trust; also to an order of publication against all the known non-resident defendants.

It is, therefore, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, in Equity, this 23rd day of July, 1953, that The Liberty Trust Company, Substituted Trustee herein, shall cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once in each of three successive weeks before the 15th day of August, 1953, and thereby give notice to any and all persons, other than those named above, who have or claim to have an interest in the corpus or accumulated income of the said trust estate, that they shall appear in these proceedings, in person or by solicitor, and file their claims herein on or before the 26th day of October, 1953; and it is further ordered that, by the publication as above ordered, all of the above named non-residents are hereby given notice of the object and substance of the relief sought by petitioner herein, and are warned to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of September, 1953, and show cause, if any they have, why the relief prayed for by petitioner should not be granted, and why a decree should not be passed distributing the corpus and accumulated income to such persons and in such proportions as shall be decreed by this Court.

And it is further ordered that a copy of this Order of Publication shall be served upon all resident interested parties (in lieu of a copy of the petition) at the time they are summoned to appear herein, and that the Trustee mail a copy of this order to all non-resident defendants.

It is further ordered that all parties named in said petition are hereby made parties to this proceeding.

GEORGE HENDERSON,
Judge.

Board Accepts Garage Bids

The low bid of the Armco Metal Products Company of Baltimore to furnish metal structures for garages was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Cost of each unit was listed at $2,355 with $877.50 for the erection of the building on a foundation prepared by the county. Total cost of each unit erected by Armco workmen will be $3,232.50 or $6,465 for both buildings

One of the metal buildings will be set up in the Georges Creek section at Lonaconing while the other is to be used on the county garage property at Franklin Street here. The county also has metal garages located at Piney Plains and Oldtown.

Locating the garages in strategic sections of the county saves much time in transportation of workers to their work on roads and also is more efficient in handling equipment.

Other bidders were Henry N. Dressman, this city; Cumberland Cement and Supply Company and the Hagerstown Equipment Company. The garages are 28 by 40 by 14 feet in dimension.

The offer of George Saum to repair the slate roof on Sylvan Retreat, the county's mental institution, for $325 has been accepted.

A letter was received from F. L. McGaha, of K Avenue in Potomac Park, requesting that the roadway be hard surfaced was ordered filed for future reference. McGaha said the road is in a bad state of repair.

The bonds of Fred Crowe, magistrate at Frostburg, and Howard R. Stevens, magistrate at Mt. Savage, were approved by the board Each is bonded for $5,000.

Board Accepts Garage Bids

The low bid of the Armco Metal Products Company of Baltimore to furnish metal structures for garages was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Cost of each unit was listed at $2,355 with $877.50 for the erection of the building on a foundation prepared by the county. Total cost of each unit erected by Armco workmen will be $3,232.50 or $6,465 for both buildings

One of the metal buildings will be set up in the Georges Creek section at Lonaconing while the other is to be used on the county garage property at Franklin Street here. The county also has metal garages located at Piney Plains and Oldtown.

Locating the garages in strategic sections of the county saves much time in transportation of workers to their work on roads and also is more efficient in handling equipment.

Other bidders were Henry N. Dressman, this city; Cumberland Cement and Supply Company and the Hagerstown Equipment Company. The garages are 28 by 40 by 14 feet in dimension.

The offer of George Saum to repair the slate roof on Sylvan Retreat, the county's mental institution, for $325 has been accepted.

A letter was received from F. L. McGaha, of K Avenue in Potomac Park, requesting that the roadway be hard surfaced was ordered filed for future reference. McGaha said the road is in a bad state of repair.

The bonds of Fred Crowe, magistrate at Frostburg, and Howard R. Stevens, magistrate at Mt. Savage, were approved by the board Each is bonded for $5,000.

Paving Job Is Completed

George F. Hazelwood Company workers have completed the paving of Kent Avenue, the first street in Cumberland to be paved this year. An innovation in this city, the street has been paved with six inches of concrete and an integral rolled curb, a type of construction which has gained favor in many cities. The job cost about $8,000 less than the lowest bid for blacktopping, according to Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner.

County Growers Vote Against 1954 Wheat Quotas

Nine of the 14 eligible wheat growers voted in yesterday's special referendum at the County PMA Office and only four favored quotas while five opposed them. That is not quite a 45 per cent favorable vote. To become effective, two-thirds of the growers must cast ballots in favor of quotas.

This is the first time since 1942 that quotas have been proposed for wheat. They were aproved by 82.4 per cent in the 1942 referendum. The quotas would call for roughly a 20 per cent reduction in plantings and marketings from this year's 10 per cent above-average crop.

mind the dwellers that "work need not be drab" and that "without it nothing can be accomplished by any community, race or nation."

Present at the ceremony were representatives of the Housing Authority, the Mayor and Council, the County Commissioners, S. Russ Minter, architect for the project, and Edgar D. Vandegrift, president of the Vandegrift Construction Company, which built the homes.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney; C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, James B. Raines, executive director of the Housing Authority, and Philip Shaw, Washington, project planner, were honored guests at the ceremony.

Dedicates Building

Rev. Mr. Richardson offered the prayer of dedication which closed the ceremony.

Many of the guests remarked on the appearance of the trim brick building and of the care which is being taken of the new housing center by its tenants.

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, who visited several of the apartments following the dedication, termed the recreation area in the front of the apartments "the cleanest play center in town."

"The Benjamin Banneker Homes" she said, "is a wonderful milestone for Cumberland."

The ceremony at the recently completed project found all 30 apartments rented, and about 20 applications on file.

Work on the three-story apartment building began last November and was completed by the Vandegrift company on June 20 at a contract price of $265,000, making each apartment cost slightly over $8,500.

Included are six one-bedroom apartments, 12 two-bedroom units, nine with three and three with four bedrooms for large families.

Ohioan Commends Local Police For Courtesy

An unidentified patrolman's exceptional courtesy in helping a lost Ohio motorist to find his way through Cumberland has convinced the Ohioan that the city has "the most courteous police in this U.S.A."

John Jacques of 610 Garrett Avenue, Steubenville, Ohio, said as much in a letter this week to Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn.

"I write this letter," said Jacques, "to let you know that I believe you have the most courteous police in this U. S. A. I hope this information will make you and your man feel as good as we were made to feel when we passed through your city on July 25."

Jacques went on to say that he had become hopelessly lost after making a wrong turn, and that the unidentified policemen took time out to set him on the right route.

Paving Job Is Completed

George F. Hazelwood Company workers have completed the paving of Kent Avenue, the first street in Cumberland to be paved this year. An innovation in this city, the street has been paved with six inches of concrete and an integral rolled curb, a type of construction which has gained favor in many cities. The job cost about $8,000 less than the lowest bid for blacktopping, according to Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner.

County Growers Vote Against 1954 Wheat Quotas

Nine of the 14 eligible wheat growers voted in yesterday's special referendum at the County PMA Office and only four favored quotas while five opposed them. That is not quite a 45 per cent favorable vote. To become effective, two-thirds of the growers must cast ballots in favor of quotas.

This is the first time since 1942 that quotas have been proposed for wheat. They were aproved by 82.4 per cent in the 1942 referendum. The quotas would call for roughly a 20 per cent reduction in plantings and marketings from this year's 10 per cent above-average crop.

mind the dwellers that "work need not be drab" and that "without it nothing can be accomplished by any community, race or nation."

Present at the ceremony were representatives of the Housing Authority, the Mayor and Council, the County Commissioners, S. Russ Minter, architect for the project, and Edgar D. Vandegrift, president of the Vandegrift Construction Company, which built the homes.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney; C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, James B. Raines, executive director of the Housing Authority, and Philip Shaw, Washington, project planner, were honored guests at the ceremony.

Dedicates Building

Rev. Mr. Richardson offered the prayer of dedication which closed the ceremony.

Many of the guests remarked on the appearance of the trim brick building and of the care which is being taken of the new housing center by its tenants.

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, who visited several of the apartments following the dedication, termed the recreation area in the front of the apartments "the cleanest play center in town."

"The Benjamin Banneker Homes" she said, "is a wonderful milestone for Cumberland."

The ceremony at the recently completed project found all 30 apartments rented, and about 20 applications on file.

Work on the three-story apartment building began last November and was completed by the Vandegrift company on June 20 at a contract price of $265,000, making each apartment cost slightly over $8,500.

Included are six one-bedroom apartments, 12 two-bedroom units, nine with three and three with four bedrooms for large families.

"I write this letter," said Jacques, "to let you know that I believe you have the most courteous police in this U. S. A. I hope this information will make you and your man feel as good as we were made to feel when we passed through your city on July 25."

Jacques went on to say that he had become hopelessly lost after making a wrong turn, and that the unidentified policemen took time out to set him on the right route.

Detroit Lions Defeat College All-Star Gridders, 24 To 10

Bobby Layne's Passes Feature Pros' Victory

93,818 At Chicago See NFL Champions Romp To Triumph

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP)—A record-breaking passing attack catapulted by bombing Bobby Layne swept the powerful Detroit Lions to a 24-10 victory over the College All-Stars before 93,818 at Soldier Field tonight.

Layne's 19 hits on 30 shots gave the Lions 339 yards through the air to riddle the spasmodic collegians who waited until the final five minutes to thrill the big crowd and vast TV-radio audience with their only touchdown.

That came on a 17-yard end sweep by halfback Gib Dawson of Texas after Jim Sears of Southern California streaked 73 yards on a punt return. Dawson also kicked a 29-yard field goal.

A crowd estimated at close to 90,000 fans saw the Lions drive 82 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter.

A pass-lateral play, Bobby Layne to Leon Hart to Doak Walker that took the ball from the Lions' 29 to the all-star 28-yard line, was a key maneuver in the drive.

Another pass, Bob Hoernschemeyer cracked the line twice, then carried over for a touchdown from the one.

In the second quarter, Walker kicked a 10-yard field goal for the pros.

Late in the quarter, Gib Dawson of Texas kicked a 30-yard angled field goal for the All-Stars to make the score 10 to 3.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (INS) — Willie Shoemaker is staging a runaway for 1953 jockey honors with a winning pace that should make him the first American rider ever to bring home 400 winners in a single year.

Latest statistics compiled by the New York Morning Telegraph show that Shoemaker, who tied for the 1950 riding championship, had 270 winners this year through Aug. 12. He was 81 ahead of Apprentice Willie Hartack, the runner-up.

At his present rate, Shoemaker, now riding at Del Mar in California, would have 430 winners by New Year's Eve.

Lions Beat Times-News, 4-0, On Matt Mullaney's 1-Hitter

Jaycees Edge Rotary Club In Seventh, 4-3, On Bob Page's Blow

Matt Mullaney threw a one-hitter at the Times-News tossers last night to give the Lions Club a 4-0 victory in the opening game of the playoffs between the first and third place teams of the Hot Stove Baseball League at Penn Avenue Field.

The Times-News and Lions teams met in the second contest of a twin bill. In the opener the Jaycees, fourth place team, defeated the Rotary Club, runners-up during the regular season, by the score of 4-3.

Mullaney had a no-hitter within his grasp until the 7th inning when Smith singled for the Newsies.

Manager Rex Beck's Lions pushed across two runs in the fourth and added single runs in the sixth and seventh frames. Valentine's triple in the 7th was the longest hit of the game.

Lapses in the field by the Times-News was the big break for the Lions who bunched their hits with errors.

Bill Hanekamp limited the Lions to four hits which were made by Hillegas, Campbell, Rice and Knippenberg. The Times-News hurler struck out 14 while Mullaney fanned six.

Page's Hit Decides

Bobby Page's timely single scoring Ramsey Rankin in the last of the 7th broke up a pitching duel and gave Eddie Parsons the decision over Jesse Markley in the opening game of the doubleheader.

With two away, Rankin of the Jaycees bunted and pulled up at second after the Rotary catcher overthrew first base. Rankin pilfered third and raced home with the winning run when Page singled through the middle of the diamond.

The Jaycees tied the score in the bottom of the fourth when Parsons was hit by a pitched ball, scored on Often's double and the later completed the circuit on a two-base error.

Parsons yielded three hits, a homer by Markley, a triple by Cross and single by Mayo, fanned eight and hit one batsman. Page obtained two of the four hits yielded by Markley. The other two bingles were contributed by Carl Brown and Often. The Rotary hurler struck out nine, walked one and hit one.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. Aug. 14 (AP)—Billy Campbell of Huntington took the first round lead in the 21st annual West Virginia Open Golf Tournament here today with a seven-under-par 65, two strokes ahead of the heavily favored Sam Snead.

Campbell, as methodical as a pendulum, captured eight birdies and went over par on just one hole to set the pace for the field of par fighters who completed the first 18 holes of the three-day, 72-hole medal affair.

Close on the heels of Campbell and Snead were pro Arnold Browning of Huntington and state amateur champion Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, each with a 69.

Margaret Dupont, Shirley Fry Win In Essex Tennis

MANCHESTER-By-The-Sea, Mass., Aug. 14 (INS)—Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., today eliminated second seeded Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., 2-6, 6-1, 6-4, in the quarter finals of the 26th annual Essex County Club Women's Tennis Tournament.

Mrs. DuPont, former U. S. and Wimbledon champion, had to rally to win both the second and third sets. After trailing 4-1 in the third set, she won the next five games to close out the match.

Both Mrs. Dupont and Miss Hart are former Essex champions. The 34-year-old Delaware mother was unseeded only because she has been absent from tennis for two years.

Mrs. DuPont's victory continued a jinx over Miss Hart. The former defeated the Florida player in the 1947 finals at Wimbledon and in the U. S. finals in both 1949 and 1950.

Third-seeded Shirley Fry of Akron, O., tourney runnerup in 1951, moved into the Essex semi-finals by eliminating Mrs. Thelma Long, three-time Australian champion, 6-2, 6-1, in expected routine fashion.

Detroit Lions Defeat College All-Star Gridders, 24 To 10

Bobby Layne's Passes Feature Pros' Victory

93,818 At Chicago See NFL Champions Romp To Triumph

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP)—A record-breaking passing attack catapulted by bombing Bobby Layne swept the powerful Detroit Lions to a 24-10 victory over the College All-Stars before 93,818 at Soldier Field tonight.

Layne's 19 hits on 30 shots gave the Lions 339 yards through the air to riddle the spasmodic collegians who waited until the final five minutes to thrill the big crowd and vast TV-radio audience with their only touchdown.

That came on a 17-yard end sweep by halfback Gib Dawson of Texas after Jim Sears of Southern California streaked 73 yards on a punt return. Dawson also kicked a 29-yard field goal.

A crowd estimated at close to 90,000 fans saw the Lions drive 82 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter.

A pass-lateral play, Bobby Layne to Leon Hart to Doak Walker that took the ball from the Lions' 29 to the all-star 28-yard line, was a key maneuver in the drive.

Another pass, Bob Hoernschemeyer cracked the line twice, then carried over for a touchdown from the one.

In the second quarter, Walker kicked a 10-yard field goal for the pros.

Late in the quarter, Gib Dawson of Texas kicked a 30-yard angled field goal for the All-Stars to make the score 10 to 3.

Rides 270 Winners

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (INS) — Willie Shoemaker is staging a runaway for 1953 jockey honors with a winning pace that should make him the first American rider ever to bring home 400 winners in a single year.

Latest statistics compiled by the New York Morning Telegraph show that Shoemaker, who tied for the 1950 riding championship, had 270 winners this year through Aug. 12. He was 81 ahead of Apprentice Willie Hartack, the runner-up.

At his present rate, Shoemaker, now riding at Del Mar in California, would have 430 winners by New Year's Eve.

Lions Beat Times-News, 4-0, On Matt Mullaney's 1-Hitter

Jaycees Edge Rotary Club In Seventh, 4-3, On Bob Page's Blow

Matt Mullaney threw a one-hitter at the Times-News tossers last night to give the Lions Club a 4-0 victory in the opening game of the playoffs between the first and third place teams of the Hot Stove Baseball League at Penn Avenue Field.

The Times-News and Lions teams met in the second contest of a twin bill. In the opener the Jaycees, fourth place team, defeated the Rotary Club, runners-up during the regular season, by the score of 4-3.

Mullaney had a no-hitter within his grasp until the 7th inning when Smith singled for the Newsies.

Manager Rex Beck's Lions pushed across two runs in the fourth and added single runs in the sixth and seventh frames. Valentine's triple in the 7th was the longest hit of the game.

Lapses in the field by the Times-News was the big break for the Lions who bunched their hits with errors.

Bill Hanekamp limited the Lions to four hits which were made by Hillegas, Campbell, Rice and Knippenberg. The Times-News hurler struck out 14 while Mullaney fanned six.

Page's Hit Decides

Bobby Page's timely single scoring Ramsey Rankin in the last of the 7th broke up a pitching duel and gave Eddie Parsons the decision over Jesse Markley in the opening game of the doubleheader.

With two away, Rankin of the Jaycees bunted and pulled up at second after the Rotary catcher overthrew first base. Rankin pilfered third and raced home with the winning run when Page singled through the middle of the diamond.

The Jaycees tied the score in the bottom of the fourth when Parsons was hit by a pitched ball, scored on Often's double and the later completed the circuit on a two-base error.

Parsons yielded three hits, a homer by Markley, a triple by Cross and single by Mayo, fanned eight and hit one batsman. Page obtained two of the four hits yielded by Markley. The other two bingles were contributed by Carl Brown and Often. The Rotary hurler struck out nine, walked one and hit one.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. Aug. 14 (AP)—Billy Campbell of Huntington took the first round lead in the 21st annual West Virginia Open Golf Tournament here today with a seven-under-par 65, two strokes ahead of the heavily favored Sam Snead.

Campbell, as methodical as a pendulum, captured eight birdies and went over par on just one hole to set the pace for the field of par fighters who completed the first 18 holes of the three-day, 72-hole medal affair.

Close on the heels of Campbell and Snead were pro Arnold Browning of Huntington and state amateur champion Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, each with a 69.

A gallery of 100 or so sun-baked fans faithfully toured the par-72, 6,100-yard Parkersburg Country Club layout to watch Snead set out after his seventh open crown. He is the defending champion.

Others who whipped par today included Joe Taylor, pro at Charleston's Berry Hills Country Club, and George Volosin, an Elkins pro, each with 70; and pro George Hoffer of Huntington and amateur Harry Peters of Sistersville, each with a 71.

Grouped at 72 were pros Rut Coffey, Moundsville; Herb Shreves, Wheeling; and Gary Nixon of White Sulphur Springs; and amateurs Arman Fletcher of Bluefield and Dick Buttermore of Parkersburg.

Irish Will Get Wrists Slapped In Sticka Case

NCAA To Take Action At Chicago Meeting

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP) — Notre Dame is scheduled to be disciplined by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for football recruiting irregularities, an authoritative source said today.

The source, declining to be identified, said the NCAA's executive council would cite the Fighting Irish during the important meetings beginning here tomorrow.

The punishment will not be severe but will be more in the form of a slight wrist-slapping, the informant added, saying that the case stemmed from the Charlie Sticka case late in January.

Sticka, a triple threat freshman fullback, transferred from Trinity to Notre Dame, provoking Trinity Coach Dan Jessee to yell, "robbery."

Notre Dame later said the incident was all a misunderstanding and announced Sticka wouldn't be eligible to play at Notre Dame. Sticka then decided to return to Trinity, a little college at Hartford, Conn.

Whether there were any other infractions could not be immediately ascertained.

A Notre Dame spokesman acknowledged that he had heard that disciplinary action might be forthcoming from the NCAA, but added that so far as he knew the university has not been so officially advised.

Michigan State and Arizona State at Tempe are said to be up for a possible spanking, also because of recruiting irregularities.

The council also this week will review the cases of three members disciplined a year ago—the University of Kentucky, Bradley University and Midwestern of Texas.

Kentucky was barred from basketball for a year and Bradley was prevented from playing in the National Tournament because of their implication in the widespread basketball betting scandals. Midwestern was simply reproved for recruiting practices.

All are expected to be given a clean bill of health and Kentucky was assured today that its three "fifth year" men on the squad—All America Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos—would be eligible to play.

The Southeastern Conference permits athletes five years to complete a four-year college education. Hagan, Ramey and Tsioropoulos were out of basketzall last year—their senior years—because of Kentucky's idleness. They are completing their work next year.

Cubs Belt Four Homers To Beat Milwaukee, 11-4

Mathews Clouts 37th, Turk Lown Is Victor

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP) — Bill Serena's grand-slam pinch home run was one of four round trippers the Chicago Cubs smacked today in hanging a 11-4 kayo on Milwaukee's second place Braves before 12,862 in the opener of a four-game series.

George Metkovich, Eddie Miksis, and Randy Jackson were the other homer hitters in Chicago's 12-hit assault to give Turk Lown, the second of three Cub pitchers, his sixth victory.

Serena's swat into the left field bleacher seats broke a 4-4 deadlock.

Mathews' homer was a line drive first pitch swat into the right field seats in the first inning.

The Miksis and Jackson homers accounted for the winners' three run eighth to make the Bruins' home stand record of 10 victories in 19 games.

Lopez Convinced Cleveland Is Out Of Pennant Race

Al Believes Tribe Can Finish Second

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14 (AP) — Even their best friend—Manager Al Lopez — appears just about convinced the Cleveland Indians are out of the running for the American League pennant.

The senor maintains he is sure his club can pass Chicago and nab second. But all he says about first place is that "we haven't forgotten about" it.

The Indians, touted before the season started as a top contender for New York's flag, went into tonight's game against the St. Louis Browns 12 games off the pace set by the front running Yanks.

That's as far as the Indians have been behind all season and just about lets them out, as there are only 45 games to go.

Fielding Is Blamed

Weepers and moaners in Cleveland blame the fielding, which is not good. But then it hasn't been for some time. Right now the club is tied for fifth in ball-catching with a .978 average. But George Strickland certainly is plugging the hole at shortstop more ably than did Ray Boone, who was traded to Detroit and became a slugger at third base.

Figures show the trouble with the Indians is mainly an inability to hit when it counts. And if RBI's were what they needed, the Tribe actually lost the pennant April 18.

That's the date big Luke Easter broke his foot. He got back in the lineup June 22 and by now has only five home runs and 24 runs batted in to his credit.

Last year at this time—when the Tribe still was a threat—Luke had 16 home runs and 48 RBI's.

Doby Slump Unexplained

Another factor is Larry Doby's unexplained slump. Last night Doby hit his first homer since July 17. That ran his four-base total for the year to 18 compared with 26 last season, when he led the league. Doby so far has 69 runs batted in, compared with 83 at this time last season.

In 1947 Hank Sauer, then playing for the Syracuse Chiefs in the International League, hit 50 home runs and batted in 141 runs.

Cary Middlecoff Leads Fort Wayne Open Tournament

Posts Record 62 For Total Of 131

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 14 (AP) —Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., blazed a 10 under par 62 today to jump into a tie for the 131 in the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open Golf Tournament.

"That was the best competitive round I ever played," Middlecoff beamed. It also set a new record for the Elks Country Club and was one of the two lowest scores in this year's major tournaments.

Middlecoff was tied at 23rd place yesterday with a 69. He had good putting all day today and used only 27 putts. He had 9 birdies, 1 eagle, 7 pars and 1 bogey. His 62 came from two 31s.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., led yesterday with a 63, but added a 68 today and dropped to a tie with Middlecoff.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, was the only amateur among the leaders. He had a pair of 66s for 132.

The field was cut to the low 62 pros and 10 amateurs, plus ties, to go into 18-hole roundds tomorrow and Sunday.

The leaders:

Evening Out Cops Feature

Filly Scores 3rd Straight Triumph

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Mrs. George D. Widener's Evening Out virtually clinched her right to be hailed as the season's top juvenile filly as she skipped off with the 36th running of the Schuylerville Stakes here this afternoon. It was her third start, her third stakes triumph.

The unbeaten daughter of Shut Out completely smothered six others of her age and sex with an outburst of speed that carried her home winner by 4½ lengths under poker-faced Ovie Scurlock. Moreover, Evening Out covered the 5½ furlongs under 123 pounds in 1:05 2-5, fastest time at the meeting for the distance. She paid $4.50 straight, and earned $9,400. Her two other stakes scores were achieved at Belmont Park in May where she won the fashion and the filly division of the National Stallion.

Brookmeade Stable's Riant closed well to take the place from Maine Chance Farm's Incidentally by a length, while Greentree's Mainsail was three lengths farther away. Others in the field were Guayana and Wolf Gal. Fast Cash, from M. F. Drinkhouse's Stable, was scratched.

Irish Will Get Wrists Slapped In Sticka Case

NCAA To Take Action At Chicago Meeting

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP) — Notre Dame is scheduled to be disciplined by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for football recruiting irregularities, an authoritative source said today.

The source, declining to be identified, said the NCAA's executive council would cite the Fighting Irish during the important meetings beginning here tomorrow.

The punishment will not be severe but will be more in the form of a slight wrist-slapping, the informant added, saying that the case stemmed from the Charlie Sticka case late in January.

Sticka, a triple threat freshman fullback, transferred from Trinity to Notre Dame, provoking Trinity Coach Dan Jessee to yell, "robbery."

Notre Dame later said the incident was all a misunderstanding and announced Sticka wouldn't be eligible to play at Notre Dame. Sticka then decided to return to Trinity, a little college at Hartford, Conn.

Whether there were any other infractions could not be immediately ascertained.

A Notre Dame spokesman acknowledged that he had heard that disciplinary action might be forthcoming from the NCAA, but added that so far as he knew the university has not been so officially advised.

Michigan State and Arizona State at Tempe are said to be up for a possible spanking, also because of recruiting irregularities.

The council also this week will review the cases of three members disciplined a year ago—the University of Kentucky, Bradley University and Midwestern of Texas.

Kentucky was barred from basketball for a year and Bradley was prevented from playing in the National Tournament because of their implication in the widespread basketball betting scandals. Midwestern was simply reproved for recruiting practices.

All are expected to be given a clean bill of health and Kentucky was assured today that its three "fifth year" men on the squad—All America Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos — would be eligible to play.

The Southeastern Conference permits athletes five years to complete a four-year college education. Hagan, Ramey and Tsioropoulos were out of basketzall last year—their senior years—because of Kentucky's idleness. They are completing their work next year.

Evening Out Cops Feature

Filly Scores 3rd Straight Triumph

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Mrs. George D. Widener's Evening Out virtually clinched her right to be hailed as the season's top juvenile filly as she skipped off with the 36th running of the Schuylerville Stakes here this afternoon. It was her third start, her third stakes triumph.

The unbeaten daughter of Shut Out completely smothered six others of her age and sex with an outburst of speed that carried her home winner by 4½ lengths under poker-faced Ovie Scurlock. Moreover, Evening Out covered the 5½ furlongs under 123 pounds in 1:05 2-5, fastest time at the meeting for the distance. She paid $4.50 straight, and earned $9,400. Her two other stakes scores were achieved at Belmont Park in May where she won the fashion and the filly division of the National Stallion.

Brookmeade Stable's Riant closed well to take the place from Maine Chance Farm's Incidentally by a length, while Greentree's Mainsail was three lengths farther away. Others in the field were Guayana and Wolf Gal. Fast Cash, from M. F. Drinkhouse's Stable, was scratched.

Cubs Belt Four Homers To Beat Milwaukee, 11-4

Mathews Clouts 37th, Turk Lown Is Victor

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP) — Bill Serena's grand-slam pinch home run was one of four round trippers the Chicago Cubs smacked today in hanging a 11-4 kayo on Milwaukee's second place Braves before 12,862 in the opener of a four-game series.

George Metkovich, Eddie Miksis, and Randy Jackson were the other homer hitters in Chicago's 12-hit assault to give Turk Lown, the second of three Cub pitchers, his sixth victory.

Serena's swat into the left field bleacher seats broke a 4-4 deadlock.

Mathews' homer was a line drive first pitch swat into the right field seats in the first inning.

The Miksis and Jackson homers accounted for the winners' three run eighth to make the Bruins' home stand record of 10 victories in 19 games.

Lopez Convinced Cleveland Is Out Of Pennant Race

Al Believes Tribe Can Finish Second

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 14 (AP) — Even their best friend—Manager Al Lopez — appears just about convinced the Cleveland Indians are out of the running for the American League pennant.

The senor maintains he is sure his club can pass Chicago and nab second. But all he says about first place is that "we haven't forgotten about" it.

The Indians, touted before the season started as a top contender for New York's flag, went into tonight's game against the St. Louis Browns 12 games off the pace set by the front running Yanks.

That's as far as the Indians have been behind all season and just about lets them out, as there are only 45 games to go.

Fielding Is Blamed

Weepers and moaners in Cleveland blame the fielding, which is not good. But then it hasn't been for some time. Right now the club is tied for fifth in ball-catching with a .978 average. But George Strickland certainly is plugging the hole at shortstop more ably than did Ray Boone, who was traded to Detroit and became a slugger at third base.

Figures show the trouble with the Indians is mainly an inability to hit when it counts. And if RBI's were what they needed, the Tribe actually lost the pennant April 18.

That's the date big Luke Easter broke his foot. He got back in the lineup June 22 and by now has only five home runs and 24 runs batted in to his credit.

Last year at this time—when the Tribe still was a threat—Luke had 16 home runs and 48 RBI's.

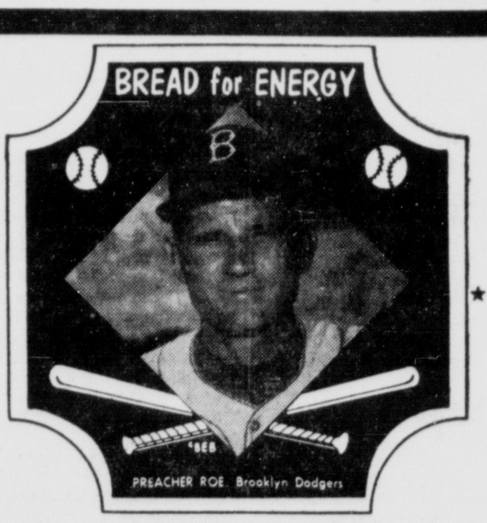

Doby Slump Unexplained

Another factor is Larry Doby's unexplained slump. Last night Doby hit his first homer since July 17. That ran his four-base total for the year to 18 compared with 26 last season, when he led the league. Doby so far has 69 runs batted in, compared with 83 at this time last season.

In 1947 Hank Sauer, then playing for the Syracuse Chiefs in the International League, hit 50 home runs and batted in 141 runs.

Wage Increase Is Sought By Paperworkers

The United Paperworkers of America (CIO) has asked the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company for a general wage increase under the wage reopening clause of the contract which went into effect November 17, a company spokesman announced.

The request, covering employes at the Luke, Covington, Va., and Williamsburg, Pa., plants of the company, is the second since the contract became effective. The first was made shortly after the effective date and a four-cent increase was granted December 5, 1952.

Negotiations opened at a recent conference at the Fort Cumberland Hotel here, and following a preliminary discussion the remainder of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of the joint job evaluation program being worked out by the union and company for employes of the three mills.

Harry Scott, of Covington, area director of the United Paperworkers, headed the union group which included representatives of Local 675, Covington, Local 676, Luke, and Local 677, Williamsburg.

Thomas McCrary, also of Covington, coordinator of industrial relations for the company, headed the company's representatives.

The job evaluation program has been the subject of conferences two years, and at the meeting here substantial progress was made toward a definite wrapping up of the proposal, according to the company spokesman.

The program will be discussed at another meeting in Covington on August 20, it was decided, and at that time an effort will be made to get various details in shape for them to be presented to the company and union for approval and the preparation of agreements.

The program, when effective, will cover approximately 4,000 employes at the three plants.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug 14—(INS)—Now please don't say "this is where I came in"—but I've got some news for you about "The Student Prince." Jane Powell will have the femme lead (MGM could not wait for Ann Blyth) and Edward Perdom, youthful British actor, will have the Mario Lanza role.

This is what intrigues me. Joe Pasternak will produce "Student Prince" very much has the Jolson and Cantor stories were produced. Mario Lanza's recordings of the songs from "Student Prince," which were bought at the time of his settlement with MGM, will be used.

Perdom, a fine actor, is in "Julius Caesar" and was brought to this country in 1948 by Laurence Olivier in "Caesar and Cleopatra."

Looks as if Peter Lawford is in all right with Columbia. Bossman Harry Cohn liked him so much in the Judy Holliday picture, "A Name For Herself," that he promptly signed Peter to appear in another picture.

I have an idea it will be "It's A Nice Place To Visit," the Garson Kanin picture in which he will again be with Judy, although nobody at Columbia will admit it.

The charming Vittorio Gassman telephoned to say au revoir and to tell me he's leaving Tuesday for Rome

"I'll stop in Banff first to help Shelley celebrate her birthday, and I'll be back in Hollywood in two weeks. I'm going to Rome only to make arrangements for next year's theatrical season.

"I have come to the conclusion that it's no good for husband and wife to be separated so I am going to make my home here with Shelley."

Well, that's the best news I've heard. Vittoria, who just finished "Rhapsody," is taking photographs of six-months- old Vittoria to her mother.

Two of our brightest young actresses have found happiness in the sanctuary of a convent. June Haver, who was one of the top stars at 20th, and Juanita Quigley, former MGM child star are becoming nuns.

Juanita takes her final vows in the Order of the Daughters of Joseph and Mary, at St. Paul the Apostle Church, Aug. 18. Cardinal McIntyre will officiate and Juanita will take the name Sister Quentin Rita after her brother and sister.

June is winding up her probationary period at the Sisters of Charity convent in Kansas. She will shortly take her initial vows and she has written to her family and some of her close friends that she has never been so happy

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Anne Baxter is bringing back to Hollywood Ingrid Messlin, the girl who taught Anne German while she was in Munich.

Cutest sight of the week was Debbie Reynolds dancing with her dad at the Cocoanut Grove. Deb's mom and dad were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary and J. P. Hoenig, head of the Ambassador, made it a gala affair by sending in a cake.

Another nice moment was when Marge Champion introduced her father, Ernest Belcher, who was her teacher, and did a dance with him. Belcher was the honored guest of a group of ballet masters.

Mrs. Robert Hardy Andrews, wife of the author, and a real beauty was celebrating her birthday (another Leo) by applauding Marge and Gower, who are doing sensational business.

At the cocktail party honoring Conrad Hilton, given by the Spanish consul, Antonio Espinosa, and his pretty wife, I met an old friend, Mrs. Ely Eliot Palmer, wife of the consul general of Australia during the war. She was very kind to Dr. Martin when he was stationed there.

The Palmers were transferred to Afghanistan and are now retired. Their son, George, who was with them, is now vice consul of Bolivia.

Conrad told me that he's opening a hotel in Istanbul, and that his new hotel in Mexico City is practically finished.

Mona Freeman was with Nicky Hilton who looks very well, and John Carroll was stagging it.

The Broderick Crawfords with their oldest son, Kim, are off for Munich for Brod's picture, "Night People."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

"Keeping up with the Joneses" can destroy your individuality and lessen your charm!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Fashions change, coiffures in any decade may run the gamut from long to short, new social usages evolve and old ones become outmoded and forgotten. But through all of this, one major secret of charm remains constant. It is always true that a woman's charm and beauty are in direct ratio to her ability to make the most of herself.

But to make the most of yourself is no small feat. First of all you must know yourself well. You must know your favorable characteristics, those of your physical nature as well as your emotional and mental personality. You must know your negative characteristics just as surely. You then must develop your best factors to their fullest and either improve your negative factors or play them down and keep them under control. And this must be a lifetime pursuit.

Out of this approach, your personality will flower, your beauty will reach its peak. There will be an individuality that is yours and you will achieve your greatest attraction and magnetism.

Self Negation

Keeping this principal in mind, consider the woman who falls into the fatal practice of "keeping up with the Joneses." With every copy-cat" action, she further submerges her own nature and reduces her opportunity to achieve charm. If she spends too much of her time and wordly goods in such actions, she will lose her identity almost entirely. And then she is merely a nonentity, a negation of all that really is herself.

To allow yourself to be unduly influenced by others in your community, to let your decisions and choices be determined by superficial factors is an extravagance no woman of charm can afford.

Your Best Self

Have the courage to be yourself. Take the time and exercise the thought necessary to create your own individuality and to develop your personality to their greatest fulfillment.

It is true, of course, that all at us must conform to the world and the ways of those around us. But "keeping up with the Joneses" is a distortion of this principle. Within the scope of what is acceptable in any community or group, you can attain great individuality just by avoiding this error and adhering tightly to the tenet that your beauty and your success depend almost entirely on your ability to make the most of yourself.

YOUR POSTURE

To achieve grace of the highest degree—to make yours the posture ideal — to improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes as well, read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet, "YOUR POSTURE." For a copy write to Secrets of Charm in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10c in coin to help cover cost.

Two More Warrants Issued In Road Case

Two more warrants were issued yesterday in the Wildcat Hollow road case which stems from a legal question of whether a road just off Williams Road is a public highway.

This time the warrants were sworn out by Mrs. Geraldine Messersmith, R D2, over whose property the highway runs. The warrants were issued by Magistrate Morris Baron, charging Mrs. Beulah Paxton and Mrs. Betty Paxton, residents of the hollow, with assault.

In a hearing Thursday before Magistrate Donald W. Mason, James Bonner who resides at the Messersmith home, charged Mrs. Beulah Paxton with making loud and profane noises on a public highway and with assault.

The first charge against Mrs. Paxton was dismissed at the request of Bonner, and on the assault charge, Mrs. Paxton was found not guilty.

An equity suit has been filed in Circuit Court on the road right-of-way question.

Down in the Valley...

Time was when a buck would buy a lot of things but times have changed and so has the good-old buckaroo. If we calculate rightly it's now worth a little better than half of its former self. Full value is a hard thing to find these days. People know that all too well and that, by golly, is one of the reasons they like to come Down In the Valley. You really get your dough's worth in the Valley—in wonderful food, deleshus drinks and plain old relaxation (that's for free, by the way — courtesy the house). Whether it's a snifter, a snort or a snootful you're looking for . . . prices are right, quality and quantity are here. Drop a couple of bucks into your jeans and wander on Down. Don't Follow The Leader

"Those two intrepid producers of scintillating television shows, genial Paul Harrison and jovial "Bernie Gould"—and that's as far as I got into that press release which heralded the arrival of their new television show "Follow the Leader" (CBS-TV alternate Tuesdays 9 p. m. EDT.)

John Crosby

Genial Paul Harrison and jovial Bernie Gould left their mark on history as the producers of "Stop the Music" which fizzed like Alka Seltzer with geniality and joviality to an extraordinary degree. Geniality and joviality are more or less the trademark of Mr. Harrison and Mr. Gould and it overflows into their work.

Consequently, if you are bearish on joviality and geniality you had better stay away from "Follow the Leader" which is overrun with the stuff. You must have played "Follow the Leader" when you were a child and it hasn't changed much. Miss Vera Vague, the girl who used to befuddle Bob Hope, is in charge here. She engages in two-minute monekyshines like pretending to cook a meal or buy an airline ticket or get arrested.

Then studio contestants clamber up on the stage and try to run through the same routine. But by the time the studio contestants get up there the place has been all gagged up. Tables break in half; the meat balls bounce; things explode in their faces. They seem to love it and, of course, the audience breaks up. A male accomplice of Miss Vague's shouts encouragement and directions and wisecraks. In short, joviality and geniality reign, if that sort of thing appeals to you.

I had rather hoped that the craze of studio contestants for making idiots of themselves had abated, perhaps even vanished entirely, with the advent of television. Ralph Edwards' "Truth or Consequences," another childhood game, was parlayed into a national institution on radio but it didn't last long on television. There was something so horrifying in watching blindfolded ladies kiss cows on the nose that this form of entertainment, I thought, had passed into permanent eclipse.

But no. Here comes "Follow the Leader" where, I'm sure, they'll kiss cows eventually if they haven't already done so. What, I keep asking myself, do people tell the neighbors when they get home after dropping the bouncing meatballs? What, in short, do they want to do this sort of thing for? Do they enjoy it?

Most of the contestants on "Follow the Leader" give me the impression they've done all this before, conceivably at their own parties. They seem awfully skillful at tipping over things and putting their feet in their mouth. They do pratfalls with a sort of nonchalance that one associates more with Buster Keaton than with amateurs. After they have been on television, I expect they'll be in terrific demand in Glendale for other people's parties—pinning the tail on the donkey, acting out charades, having a hell of a time.

That, of course, would put the parlor game back where it belongs—in the parlor. Actually "Follow the Leader" is innocuous enough, no where near as painful as "Truth or Consequences," but I just keep wondering what the devil it's doing on television. Can't people play their own parlor games in some reasonable privacy?

I am willing to concede one "Follow the Leader" if there aren't 42 imitations of it. It is one more distressing example of radio thinking invading a field which has only an accidental affiliation with it. There are dozens of real good ideas kicking around which can't get a hearing because there are no time slots available. So they put a parlor game on a national network. Next week, it'll be "Run, Sheep, Run."

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Shepard Barclay

SUDDENLY GROWS GOOD

IT IS startling sometimes to note how the appearance of a hand changes. What seemed at first to be quite a holding can shrink to insignificance as you hear the bidding around the table, especially if the player at your left bids a suit or suits in which you hold secondary honors. In reverse fashion, a hand that seemed next to worthless may suddenly grow good if you learn that there in a nicely-fitting suit between your own holding and your partner's hand.

	♠ A K 6 ♥ 10 7 4 ♦ A K Q ♣ K 8 5 2
♠ 10 3 ♥ K Q 9 2 ♦ J 8 6 5 ♣ Q J 7	N W E S	♠ Q 8 ♥ A J 8 5 ♦ 9 2 ♣ A 10 6 4 3
	♠ J 9 7 5 4 2 ♥ 6 3 ♦ 10 7 4 3 ♣ 9

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♠

It took a good deal of temerity for South to bid at all with that emaciated mess. He strained himself still more with his 2-Spades sign-off bid, which he thought had a better chance to succeed than would 1-No Trump. When North raised him to 3-Spades, he felt badly about the whole thing as he passed. Later he wished he had eaten one more egg for breakfast, and that it had given him the nerve to bid the spade game, which it turned out he could have made. He took the necessary ten tricks, but, alas, got no game because he was not in a game contract.

The defenders got tricks with the heart K and Q and he ruffed the A. Two spade tops cleared out the opposing trumps, whereupon he cashed dummy's three big diamonds, then gave up a low club to the opposition. He ruffed the club return, ruffed the diamond 10 with dummy's last spade and had only trumps left for the remaining tricks.

North told him he didn't blame South for feeling ticklish about his first two bids of spades. "But when I raised the spades," he said, "your hand suddenly became good. If I had been in your position, I would then have made a stab at 4-Spades, since the value of a game in rubber bridge is so great."

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Shepard Barclay

SUDDENLY GROWS GOOD

IT IS startling sometimes to note how the appearance of a and changes. What seemed at rst to be quite a holding can hrink to insignificance as you near the bidding around the table, especially if the player at your left bids a suit or suits in which you hold secondary honors. In reverse fashion, a hand that seemed next to worthless may suddenly grow good if you learn that there in a nicely-fitting suit between your own holding and your partner's hand.

♠ J 9 7 5 4 2 ♥ 6 3 ♦ 10 7 4 3 ♣ 9

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♠

It took a good deal of temerity for South to bid at all with that maciated mess. He strained him- if still more with his 2-Spades sign-off bid, which he thought had a better chance to succeed than would 1-No Trump. When North raised him to 3-Spades, he felt badly about the whole thing as he passed. Later he wished he had eaten one more egg for breakfast, and that it had given him the nerve to bid the spade game, which it turned out he could have made. He took the necessary ten tricks, but, alas, got no game because he was not in a game contract.

The defenders got tricks with the heart K and Q and he ruffed the A. Two spade tops cleared out the opposing trumps, whereupon he cashed dummy's three big diamonds, then gave up a low club to the opposition. He ruffed the club return, ruffed the diamond 10 with dummy's last spade and had only trumps left for the remaining tricks.

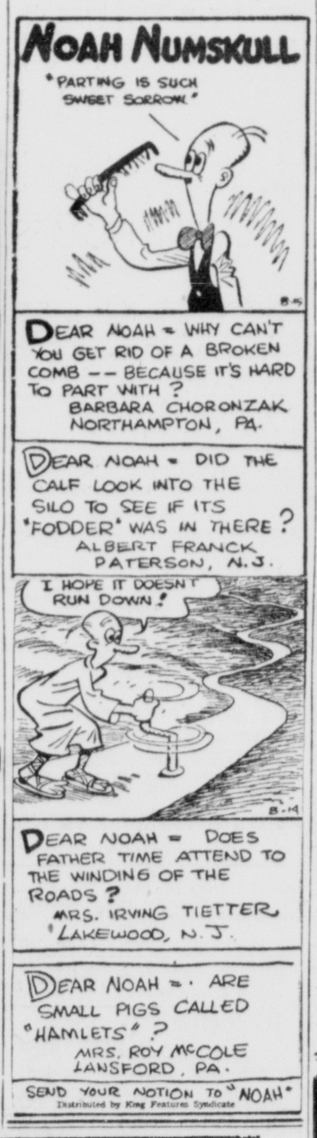

North told him he didn't blame South for feeling ticklish about his first two bids of spades. "But when I raised the spades," he said, "your hand suddenly became good. If I had been in your position, I would then have made a stab at 4-Spades, since the value of a game in rubber bridge is so great."

Your Week-end Question

What would you consider the most important difference between the play of fine defenders and that of indifferent ones?

Market Declines Slightly As Recovery Attempt Fails

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—Despite a partial recovery attempt, the stock market declined moderately today.

Most of the loss was concentrated in the railroads, but also ltwer were steels, motors, oils, coopers, rubbers, chemicals, discoppers, building materials, and radio-televisions.

The decline extended to around 2 points in significant areas with most minus signs rather small.

Utilities held their own, and a few plus signs appeared in aircrafts, electronics, and oils.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 60 cents at $108.-90, leaving the average down 20 cents on the week. The industrial component today lost 70 cents, railroads lost $1.10, while utilities held unchanged.

General Motors, off a point yesterday, was down ½ at 58½ today with 9,100 shares traded. It was the seventh most active issue. The company faces production curbs as a result of the destruction of its automatic transmission plant in a 50 million dollar fire.

Market Declines Slightly As Recovery Attempt Fails

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—Despite a partial recovery attempt, the stock market declined moderately today.

Most of the loss was concentrated in the railroads, but also ltwer were steels, motors, oils, coppers, rubbers, chemicals, discoppers, building materials, and radio-televisions.

The decline extended to around 2 points in significant areas with most minus signs rather small.

Utilities held their own, and a few plus signs appeared in aircrafts, electronics, and oils.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 60 cents at $108.-90, leaving the average down 20 cents on the week. The industrial component today lost 70 cents, railroads lost $1.10, while utilities held unchanged.

General Motors, off a point yesterday, was down ½ at 58½ today with 9,100 shares traded. It was the seventh most active issue. The company faces production curbs as a result of the destruction of its automatic transmission plant in a 50 million dollar fire.

Ohio Oil topped the most active list unchanged at 57½ on a volume of 15,600 shares which included a block of 11,800 shares that traded at 57⅜.

Communists Say Mt. Savage GI Escaped Prison

Army Lacks Word Of His Whereabouts

Pfc. William R. Seggie, 22-year-old son of Mrs. Leah R. Devault of Old Row, Mt. Savage, was identified yesterday by the Army in Washington as one of 147 soldiers reported by the Communists to have escaped from enemy prison camps.

Mrs. Devault and the families of some 35 other identified men in that group of 147 have been notified that the escape information was based soley on Communist reports. The U. S. authorities have no information about the actual fate of the missing soldiers.

Enlisted In 1948

Pfc. Seggie, who will be 23 in September, enlisted in the Army for the first time in January, 1948. He was transported to Panama in July, 1950 and remained there until October. His first enlistment expired at that time and the Mt. Savage soldier then reenlisted.

On Christmas Eve 1950 Seggie sailed for Japan. Mrs. Devault reports that she last heard from her son in a letter written in February, 1951. In that letter he related that he was on the front lines in Korea and consequently was uncertain of the day. The letter arrived after Mrs. Devault received a telegram Feb. 12, 1951, from the Defense Department stating that her son was missing in action.

Last Information

That was the last she had heard concerning her son's whereabouts until she received her second Defense Department telegram yesterday with its vague information.

Pfc. Seggie is a son of Mrs. Devault and the late George A. Seggie. After her first husband's death, Mrs. Devault married her second husband, James Devault, who now also is deceased. The missing soldier has three half sisters and two half brothers, all born to Mrs. Devault and her second husband.

Seggie attended schools in Garrett County and Mt. Savage.

The Weather

The use of air-conditioning and electric fans was widespread yesterday afternoon as the sun bore down on local and area residents. And many took to swimming pools, rivers and shade trees in search for cooling comfort. Highest temperature registered at Constitution Park was 85 degrees with an official low of 62 degrees. At 8 p. m. the thermometer noted a temperature of 82 degrees and the humidity at 6 p. m. was 65 per cent. The forecast for today is fair and warmer in the central and east portion of the state. In West Virginia the forecast is partly cloudy and warm with possible scattered thundershowers in the afternoon or evening.

Housing Project Dedicated

Mayor Roy W. Eves is seen presenting to Earle L. Bracey, principal of Carver High School, the shovel which was used last Armistice day to break ground for Benjamin Banneker Homes on Frederick Street. Assisting in the ceremony are (left to right) James B. Raines, executive director of the Cumberland Housing Authority; Edgar D. Vandegrift, whose firm built the 30 dwelling unit structure; S. Russ Minter, architect for the project, and Rev. H. M. Richardson, chairman of the Housing Authority, who offered the dedicatory prayer. The ceremony was witnessed by several hundred persons, including the little girl who is coming out of the door to join the crowd.

New Frederick Street Project Is Dedicated

Officials Help Open Banneker Homes

By. C. WESLEY BLACKBURN

Earle L. Bracey, vice chairman of the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland, declared yesterday that projects such as Benjamin Benneker Homes add to the dignity of the colored citizens for whom it was planned and the city which sponsored it.

Bracey, principal of Carver High School, was one of the speakers at a ceremony dedicating the low-rent public housing project for Negroes on Frederick Street.

All citizens of the city, he said, should rejoice to see the opening of the project which dignifies the colored community of this city.

After citing some of the housing conditions which led to the building of the 30 family dwelling project, Bracey quoted from the 35th chapter of Isaiah, "The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as a rose."

Race Is Dignified

"Where our race has been dignified, growth and improvement have been realized," Bracey declared in pointing to the accomplishments of Negro leaders such as Benjamin Banneker, Marian Anderson, Joe Louis and Ralph Brunch, who have led dignity to the fields in which they excel.

More impressive than any words spoken by the dignitaries was the pride seen on the faces of the citizens now dwelling in the modern apartment house.

Some of the tots who sat solemnly to watch the ceremony did not understand the words, but they did grasp the importance of the occasion.

Rev. H. M. Richardson, chairman of the authority, who served as master of ceremonies, related some of the difficulties which preceded the erection of the project.

Only the support of the Mayor and Council, he said, made the project possible.

Some of the "conservative" elements of the city who at first opposed the location of the unit on Frederick Street, he said, now exclaim, "What a difference this has made in the area."

Mayor Presents Shovel

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who broke the ground for the project last Armistice day, presented the shovel used for that ceremony to Bracey. It is to be placed in the hall of Carver High School.

"We are here to dedicate homes, not just a project or a building," Mayor Eves said, "Homes to make it possible for 30 families to have a clean and comfortable place in which to gather at the end of the day."

Referring to the shovel, which had been plated with gleaming chrome, he asked that the keen edge, brightness and beauty re-

Youth Is Given Sentence, Fined In Auto Tour

Four Others Get Suspended Terms

A Pennsylvania youth was given a suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction and fined $5 and costs in two separate hearings yesterday following an all-night auto tour of the Tri-State area with four other area residents. They received suspended sentences.

Norman Miller of Buffalo Mills, Pa., on a re-enlistment leave from Camp Gordon, Ga., was given a hearing before Judge Alban C. Thompson in Juvenile Court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minor children.

He was given a suspended sentence of one year in the House of Correction on the condition he remain out of Allegany County. A veteran of the Korean War he was reported to be returning to Georgia today.

Miller also drew a fine of $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty before Trial Magistrate Morris Baron on a charge of operating a vehicle without a license.

The four area residents who appeared before Judge Thompson also drew suspended sentences. A 19-year-old Frostburg girl was given a suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction with a warning she must stop running around with younger people and be at home nightly at a reasonable hour.

A 17-year-old Virginia Avenue youth was handed a suspended sentence in the Maryland Training School for boys with a warning to quit running around with youngsters.

An 18-year-old Mt. Savage area girl was given a suspended sentence of a year in the House of Correction and a 15-year-old girl from the same area drew a suspended sentence at the Montrose School for Girls with a reminder she must be at home by 9:30 p,. m.

The group was arrested Thursday afternoon on the Country Club road in a car bearing Georgia plates. Lt. James E. Van and Detective Roy C. Hawse investigated. Van and Hawse said the group admitted to have been riding around in the car all night Wednesday night and Thursday until the arrest.

The tour, the detectives said, ranged as far as Romney, W. Va., and Bedford, Pa.

Boy, 17, Held In Theft Of Automobile

A 17-year-old boy is being held in Erie, Pa., in connection with the theft of an auto from Romney, W. Va.

West Virginia State Police at Romney last night said Erie police had notified them of the arrest of Charles Bauman, 17, formerly of Hampshire County.

Bauman reportedly was arrested while driving the car or Arno Shingleton, Romney garage operator. The 1951 sedan, missing since August 7, was recovered and was in running condition.

State Police said federal authorities would be notified.

Police Nab Two Illinois Youths In Stolen Car

Flat Tire, Rifle Lead To Arrest

Two Illinois youths who reportedly told police they had been touring the United States for the past month in a car they stole from California were being held here last night pending word from California authorities.

Alert State Police picked up the young men late Thursday night within minutes after a woman became suspicious of their manner and called police.

Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of LaVale Barracks, and Trooper Glen Folk listed the boys as Gilbert Dennis Standley, 20, and Lawrence Leon Lanham, 18, both of Des Plaines, Ill.

Lt. O'Hara said the youths came under suspicion when they stopped at Meadow Mountain Inn on U. S. Route 40 with a flat tire and tried to sell a .22 rifle to a woman who works there.

When she refused to buy the gun, they drove off without waiting to get the flat fixed.

The woman notified State Police, and O'Hara and Folk caught up with the youths while they were having the flat fixed at a service station west of Frostburg. They had sold the rifle to an attendant at the station.

O'Hara said Standley was carrying a loaded .38 caliber revolver when he was arrested, but offered no resistance. Lanham was quoted as saying that the revolver belonged to his father and that he owned the rifle.

O'Hara quoted the boys as saying they had stolen the car from Sacramento, Calif., about a month ago. Both said they had been away from home for some time and had been working at odd jobs. They said they set out for Florida after taking the car.

They were quoted as saying they had stolen some oil and gas in Illinois, and had sold the car radio in Indiana, a spare tire in South Dakota, and some tools in Mississippi.

Twice, they said they were stopped by police in other states, but were released when they produced the car's registration card.

Owner of the car was listed as Julian S. Johnson of Portland, Oregon.

O'Hara said the boys would be held at County Jail pending word from California and federal authorities.

Sport Shirt Firm Locates Newest Plant At Grantsville; To Hire 85

Town Erects Building For Factory

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT

Community cooperation is paying dividends in Grantsville.

The little rural community, through combined efforts of businessmen, volunteer firemen and other citizens, has obtained a new industry which will begin operations on or about September 1.

The plant, which will manufacture high grade sports shirts, is part of a large New Jersey organization that has been seeking plant sites and adequate buildings throughout this area.

According to some of the people who have been most active in acquiring the new facility for Grantsville, it was necessary to move quietly and cautiously, so the town would not be outbid by some other community, and the plant placed elsewhere.

At the same time, it was necessary to provide the firm with a building adequate for production needs.

Town Puts Up Building

One of the prime movers in the undertaking was John Pritchard, operator of Meadow Mountain Inn, near Grantsville. Another was Henry L. Durst, the town's fire chief. There were dozens of others.

The fire company needed a new home and had planned to build one. The town needed additional payroll and employment opportunity for many of its jobless citizens.

So a large structure, 65 by 125 feet, was planned and designed. Volunteer tile and brick layers, carpenters, laborers, electricians, plumbers and just handymen, were enlisted for the task of erecting the building.

In addition to the fire station, it provides over 10,000 square feet of modern factory space on two floors, just what the firm needed.

Machinery Moved In

Much of the negotiation was carried on by long distance telephone. The company finally made its own survey of Grantsville and the immediate area. An engineer was sent in to look over the site, building and the town.

Finally, a short time ago, the firm signed a short-term lease with a long-term option, and yesterday started to move machinery and material into the plant.

Those responsible for the acquisition of the new plant are liberal in their praise of the town's cooperation. They are equally modest in the part they played themselves.

But these Garrett countians are live examples of their faith in their community, their faith in each other and of the fact that community cooperation toward a fixed goal will bring results.

The new structure, modern in design, is two stories high and is constructed of tile and brick, glass and steel. The second floor, where most of the plant will be housed, is open-span, with no pillars or posts.

Payroll $5,000 Weekly

The building, had it been constructed by private contract, would have cost an estimated $150,000 or more. With the labor volunteered in the interest of community improvement, better business and more jobs for all concerned, the town businessmen and firemen have completed the new plant and fire hall for less than $40,000.

It is expected the plant will employ about 85 people at the beginning of operations, gradually increasing the payroll to 135. The firm's officials have also indicated that if production is satisfactory and the demand for their product continues, an addition to the building, or other expansion will be made.

The firm estimates its payroll at an average of over $5,000 per week.

Early Trials Sought In Morals Cases

Eight young Tri-Towns men yesterday filed petitions for immediate trial on charges that they had carnal knowledge of a 14-year-old Lonaconing girl on June 10.

All the youths, who are about 20 years old, were freed under $500 bonds pending grand jury action when they waived preliminary hearings June 24.

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher filed criminal informations against the youths Tuesday.

Three Held For Grand Jury In Orchard Fracas

Shooting Blamed On Hancock Man

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 14 (AP)—Three Hancock men were ordered held today for action by the November grand jury in a shooting which resulted in wounding of three Puerto Rican orchard workers.

The Puerto Ricans were wounded early Sunday when a stream of 16 bullets was fired into a laborers' shack at the Dillon orchard near Hancock. Police said the Puerto Ricans had tried to stop a fight between two of the Hancock men.

One of the Puerto Ricans, Eddie Irizarry, 26, remains in critical condition at Hancock County Hospital. The other two suffered leg and ankle wounds.

Magistrate Paul Ottinger today ordered James E. Morris, 26, held in $2,000 bail on charges of shooting Irizarry with intent to kill.

Morris' father, John R. Morris Sr., 41, was ordered held in $500 bail on charges of assaulting Newton Bishop, 26. And Bishop was charged with assault on John Morris and carrying a concealed weapon. Ottinger also set his bond at $500.

State's Attorney John Hollyday said today the Puerto Ricans were "victims of circumstances and are completely innocent of having any part in the brawl. They tried to prevent a man from getting shot."

Hollyday said the three orchard workers took a gun away from John R. Morris when they saw him arguing with Bishop. He added that James Morris came back later with a rifle and opened up on the Puerto Ricans.

Condons Moving To Florida, Closing Kindergarten Here

Mrs. Katherine P. Condon, who has operated a kindergarten in Cumberland for the past 10 years, is closing her school for pre-school children at 601 North Centre Street and is moving with her husband, J. Thomas Condon, to Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Condon explained that she is bothered by an arthritic condition and has been advised to seek a more moderate climate. The Condons plan to leave Cumberland next Friday.

A native of Frostburg and a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, Mrs. Condon taught in Allegany County public schools for 16 years before establishing her first kindergarten in her home town. She operated that kindergarten two years.

Employed in industry two years, Mrs. Condon then opened a kindergarten in Cumberland in 1943. First located on Columbia Street, it later was moved to Hanover Street and finally to its Centre Street location.

Her husband, who was employed at the Celanese dyehouse for 17½ years before it was closed in April, 1952, is a member of the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee. After the dyehouse closed, Condon was employed by the Haines Lithograph Company in Silver Spring for about six months. More recently he has been working at Sacred Heart Hospital.

A number of friends of the Condons have honored them at going-away parties.

The Condons have sold their property at the corner of North Centre and Pear Streets to Samuel R. Aman and Wanda Lee Aman.

Editors Meet In Hagerstown, Take Plane Ride

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 14 (AP)—Editors and publishers of newspapers talked shop and saw how airplanes were made at the start of a two-day regional press convention today.

Two hundred newsmen and their wives attended a joint meeting of four organizations—The Virginia and Chesapeake Associated Press, and the Virginia and Maryland Press Associations.

Both Virginia groups elected new officers.

The Maryland Press Association authorized President Norman W. Harrington of Easton to appoint a committee to review laws of other states prohibiting governing bodies to hold closed sessions.

Harrington said the purpose of the study will be to determine if Maryland needs such a law and if so what it should cover.

Both state groups also discussed the postmaster general's proposal to hike second class mail by 42 per cent. They were read a statement by Cranston Williams, manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, that advocates attempted to smear newspapers.

Harrington said it is the consensus of Maryland publishers that they should pay a fair share of mailing costs, but insist on proper auditing to determine it.

Charles Rowe, associate publisher of the Fredericksburg Free Lance Star, was elected chairman of the Virginia Associated Press. Tom Hanes, managing editor of the Norfolk Ledger Dispatch, was made first vice chairman, and Charles Hamilton, managing editor of the Richmond News Leader, second vice chairman.

The AP members in Virginia re-elected Frank H. Fuller, Richmond bureau chief, secretary.

The Virginia Press Association chose Emory Currell, weekly Kilmonock publisher, president. Others elected were Clark Lindsay, Charlottesville, vice president for dailies; Watt Miles, Danville, vice president for weeklies; Carter Glass Jr., Lynchburg, treasurer.

The daily and weekly publishers named Edwin O. Meyer, Richmond, for another term as secretary-manager.

The visitors were welcomed by W. Preston Lane Jr., president of the Chesapeake AP and Hagerstown daily publisher, and Mayor Winslow Burhans.

West Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania newspapermen, including George Hodel of Beckley, president of the West Virginia AP, were among the guests.

The group toured the Fairchild aircraft factory and saw the C119 Flying Boxcars assembled. Some of them took a ride over Hagerstown.

Features of the plane which made simulated cargo drops were explained by Capt. Cecil W. Hospelhorn of the Air Development Squadron, Quartermaster's School, at Fort Lee, Va. He commanded the first airborne delivery unit in Korea.

The airplane company was host at a cocktail party preceding a dinner dance.

Repatriated Soldiers Given Free Cable Service By RC

Free cable service to each prisoner of war being released by the Communists is being provided by the American Red Cross.

Representatives of the Red Cross are stationed at Inchon and the 121st Evacuation Hospital, according to Mrs. Lee Witherup, secretary of the Allegany County Chapter.

The service, Mrs. Witherup added, will continue until the last POW is returned. Red Cross workers in Tokyo also book telephone calls for sick and wounded repatriates flown directly to Tokyo hospitals.

Calls are being made as rapidly as the physical condition of the men permit, but the Red Cross emphasized that some men will need several days rest and quiet before they are able to face the emotional strain of a call home.

Hospital calls, Mrs. Witherup pointed out, are being timed not to interfere with emergency medical treatment. The time difference between Tokyo and American cities will bring most calls into American homes during night hours.

The organization emphasizes that able-bodied POW's will be provided free 50-word cable service, whereas sick and wounded prisoners will be permitted a telephone call home.

Each repatriate will be permitted a telephone call from the West Coast directly to his family to tell them where and when to meet him. In most cases, it is anticipated that time will be saved, if families remain home until they receive these calls.

Any returnee unable to send a 50-word radiogram may send a shorter personal radiogram from ship. This service is provided free through cooperation of the Red Cross and the U. S. Navy, but due to limited radio facilities these messages will be restricted to 20 words.

Police Nab Two Illinois Youths In Stolen Car

Flat Tire, Rifle Lead To Arrest

Two Illinois youths who reportedly told police they had been touring the United States for the past month in a car they stole from California were being held here last night pending word from California authorities.

Alert State Police picked up the young men late Thursday night within minutes after a woman became suspicious of their manner and called police.

Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of LaVale Barracks, and Trooper Glen Folk listed the boys as Gilbert Dennis Standley, 20, and Lawrence Leon Lanham, 18, both of Des Plaines, Ill.

Lt. O'Hara said the youths came under suspicion when they stopped at Meadow Mountain Inn on U. S. Route 40 with a flat tire and tried to sell a .22 rifle to a woman who works there.

When she refused to buy the gun, they drove off without waiting to get the flat fixed.

The woman notified State Police, and O'Hara and Folk caught up with the youths while they were having the flat fixed at a service station west of Frostburg. They had sold the rifle to an attendant at the station.

O'Hara said Standley was carrying a loaded .38 caliber revolver when he was arrested, but offered no resistance. Lanham was quoted as saying that the revolver belonged to his father and that he owned the rifle.

O'Hara quoted the boys as saying they had stolen the car from Sacramento, Calif., about a month ago. Both said they had been away from home for some time and had been working at odd jobs. They said they set out for Florida after taking the car.

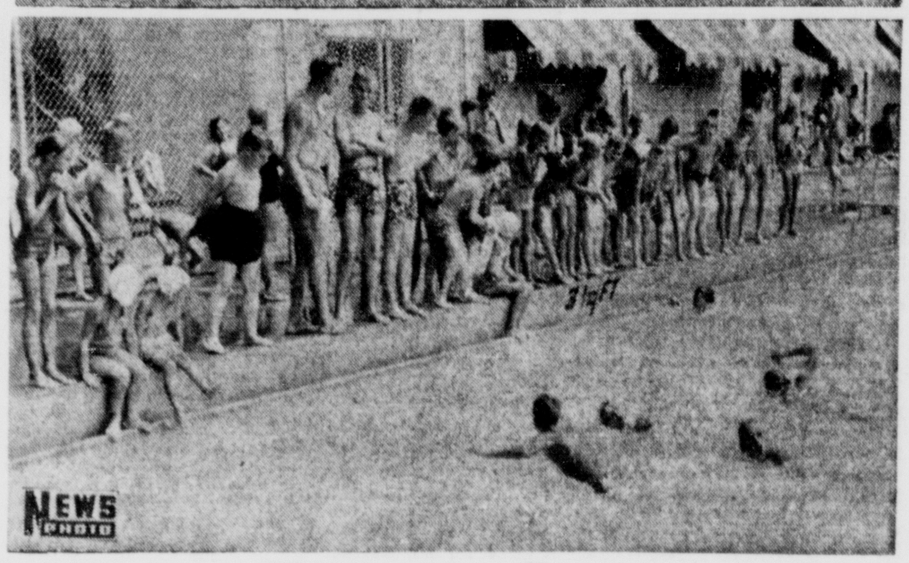

They were quoted as saying they had stolen some oil and gas in Illinois, and had sold the car radio in Indiana, a spare tire in South Dakota, and some tools in Mississippi.

Twice, they said they were stopped by police in other states, but were released when they produced the car's registration card.

Owner of the car was listed as Julian S. Johnson of Portland, Oregon.

O'Hara said the boys would be held at County Jail pending word from California and federal authorities.

Communists Say Mt. Savage GI Escaped Prison

Army Lacks Word Of His Whereabouts

Pfc. William R. Seggie, 22-year-old son of Mrs. Leah R. Devault of Old Row, Mt. Savage, was identified yesterday by the Army in Washington as one of 147 soldiers reported by the Communists to have escaped from enemy prison camps.

Mrs. Devault and the families of some 35 other identified men in that group of 147 have been notified that the escape information was based soley on Communist reports. The U. S. authorities have no information about the actual fate of the missing soldiers.

Enlisted In 1948

Pfc. Seggie, who will be 23 in September, enlisted in the Army for the first time in January, 1948. He was transported to Panama in July, 1950 and remained there until October. His first enlistment expired at that time and the Mt. Savage soldier then reenlisted.

On Christmas Eve 1950 Seggie sailed for Japan. Mrs. Devault reports that she last heard from her son in a letter written in February, 1951. In that letter he related that he was on the front lines in Korea and consequently was uncertain of the day. The letter arrived after Mrs. Devault received a telegram Feb. 12, 1951, from the Defense Department stating that her son was missing in action.

Last Information

That was the last she had heard concerning her son's whereabouts until she received her second Defense Department telegram yesterday with its vague information.

Pfc. Seggie is a son of Mrs. Devault and the late George A. Seggie. After her first husband's death, Mrs. Devault married her second husband, James Devault, who now also is deceased. The missing soldier has three half sisters and two half brothers, all born to Mrs. Devault and her second husband.

Seggie attended schools in Garrett County and Mt. Savage.

The Weather

The use of air-conditioning and electric fans was widespread yesterday afternoon as the sun bore down on local and area residents. And many took to swimming pools, rivers and shade trees in search for cooling comfort. Highest temperature registered at Constitution Park was 85 degrees with an official low of 62 degrees. At 8 p. m. the thermometer noted a temperature of 82 degrees and the humidity at 6 p. m. was 65 per cent. The forecast for today is fair and warmer in the central and east portion of the state. In West Virginia the forecast is partly cloudy and warm with possible scattered thundershowers in the afternoon or evening.

New Frederick Street Project Is Dedicated

Officials Help Open Banneker Homes

By. C. WESLEY BLACKBURN

Earle L. Bracey, vice chairman of the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland, declared yesterday that projects such as Benjamin Benneker Homes add to the dignity of the colored citizens for whom it was planned and the city which sponsored it.

Bracey, principal of Carver High School, was one of the speakers at a ceremony dedicating the low-rent public housing project for Negroes on Frederick Street.

All citizens of the city, he said, should rejoice to see the opening of the project which dignifies the colored community of this city.

After citing some of the housing conditions which led to the building of the 30 family dwelling project, Bracey quoted from the 35th chapter of Isaiah, "The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as a rose."

Race Is Dignified

"Where our race has been dignified, growth and improvement have been realized," Bracey declared in pointing to the accomplishments of Negro leaders such as Benjamin Banneker, Marian Anderson, Joe Louis and Ralph Brunch, who have led dignity to the fields in which they excel.

More impressive than any words spoken by the dignitaries was the pride seen on the faces of the citizens now dwelling in the modern apartment house.

Some of the tots who sat solemnly to watch the ceremony did not understand the words, but they did grasp the importance of the occasion.

Rev. H. M. Richardson, chairman of the authority, who served as master of ceremonies, related some of the difficulties which preceded the erection of the project.

Only the support of the Mayor and Council, he said, made the project possible.

Some of the city who at first opposed the location of the unit on Frederick Street, he said, now exclaim, "What a difference this has made in the area."

Mayor Presents Shovel

Mayor Roy W. Eves, who broke the ground for the project last Armistice day, presented the shovel used for that ceremony to Bracey. It is to be placed in the hall of Carver High School.

"We are here to dedicate homes, not just a project or a building," Mayor Eves said, "Homes to make it possible for 30 families to have a clean and comfortable place in which to gather at the end of the day."

Referring to the shovel, which had been plated with gleaming chrome, he asked that the keen edge, brightness and beauty re-

Representatives of the Red Cross are stationed at Inchon and the 121st Evacuation Hospital, according to Mrs. Lee Witherup, secretary of the Allegany County Chapter.

The service, Mrs. Witherup added, will continue until the last POW is returned. Red Cross workers in Tokyo also book telephone calls for sick and wounded repatriates flown directly to Tokyo hospitals.

Calls are being made as rapidly as the physical condition of the men permit, but the Red Cross emphasized that some men will need several days rest and quiet before they are able to face the emotional strain of a call home.

Hospital calls, Mrs. Witherup pointed out, are being timed not to interfere with emergency medical treatment. The time difference between Tokyo and American cities will bring most calls into American homes during night hours.

The organization emphasizes that able-bodied POW's will be provided free 50-word cable service, whereas sick and wounded prisoners will be permitted a telephone call home.

Each repatriate will be permitted a telephone call from the West Coast directly to his family to tell them where and when to meet him. In most cases, it is anticipated that time will be saved, if families remain home until they receive these calls.

Any returnee unable to send a 50-word radiogram may send a shorter personal radiogram from ship. This service is provided free through cooperation of the Red Cross and the U. S. Navy, but due to limited radio facilities these messages will be restricted to 20 words.
